Kennedy And Gromyko Meet At Capital After Soviet Agrees On Truce In Laos

Senate Help Seen Needed By President

Wage Vote Reveals Trouble In House For 'New Frontier'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy apparently is going to have to depend on his former Senate colleagues to salvage his House-buffed New Frontiers program.

For Kennedy this seems to mean that, unless there is an unforeseen change in the political weather, he is going to get something less than he asks on almost every major proposal laid before Congress.

No one expects Kennedy to take lying down the defeat he suffered last Friday when a House coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats killed an administration compromise on the minimum wage bill by one vote.

But the 216-203 roll call vote by which a Republican alternative proposal was approved showed Kennedy what he probably can expect in the House on many issues.

The President's obvious answer will be to put all the pressure he can mount on the Senate to get his version adopted there.

Kennedy already has shown in some other instances a readiness to send Cabinet members into action, to call governors on the telephone to urge them to enlist the support of their senators in his cause and to use his personal powers of persuasion with his former colleagues.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson appears to have launched another phase of this with a call on Democrats to rally party support for the President.

In a frankly partisan speech at a Louisville, Ky., Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, Johnson said Kennedy must have "the knowledgeable support of a knowledgeable party campaigning in season and out for the success of his program."

His advice to Democrats: "Knock on every door. Awaken every household. Let the people know there is somebody in charge in Washington."

This kind of campaigning, plus Kennedy's own individual and staff efforts, would be calculated to bring as many as possible of the Southern and border state Democratic senators back into the administration fold when the chips are down in Senate roll calls.

French Slate Peace Talks

Algerians To Meet Aides In 2 Weeks

PARIS (AP)—The French government announced today that peace negotiations would begin April 7 at Evian-les-Bains, on the Swiss border, with representatives of the Algerian rebel government in exile.

The brief announcement was made by the office of President Charles de Gaulle. No details were announced.

It is expected that Louis Joxe, minister for Algerian affairs, will head the French negotiating team. The Algerian team is expected to be headed by Ahmed Francis, a French-trained lawyer. The French and the rebels agreed several weeks ago to begin talks. But the Algerian nationalists apparently delayed the opening date to give them time to contact leaders of the Arab world.

Laos Rebels May Have Downed Missing Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports are circulating here that the U.S. transport plane missing in Laos with eight Americans may have been shot down over pro-Communist rebel territory.

The State and Defense departments declined Sunday night to go beyond a bare announcement, issued Sunday, that the C-47 had been missing two days.

'Father, Forgive Them' His Last Words

(One short phrase uttered from the cross summed up everything Christ had lived for. Its meaning then and today is interpreted by noted clergymen in a series of five articles prepared for The Associated Press. The first is by the Rev. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of the United Lutheran Church in America and the Lutheran World Federation.)

By DR. FRY

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Famous last words of great men deserve to be remembered if they pass three tests.

The person who uttered them must be overwhelmingly great; the words themselves need to be pithy, glowing, unforgettable; best of all, the saying ought to capture and reflect the very heart of everything the dying man had lived for. In all history who ever met these conditions as dramatically as Jesus Christ?

GREAT? Listen to a pagan Roman, a battle-hardened infantry captain who watched Christ die:

"Truly this was the son of God."

If his judgment is too superficial, based on too slight acquaintance for you to take it seriously, hear the estimate of a constant companion:

"My Lord and my God."

Go on and see Christ's unequalled influence over 20 centuries. Yes, read this newspaper today. Jesus' ejaculations from his cross are indelible in the memory of mankind. They were seven in number punctuating a three-hour-long silence. The first one fills our ears right now:

"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

"Father," he begins arrestingly. His choice of the word is more than accidental. Awe is in his voice as well as a plea. He is calling out not only to attract the attention of God, who seemed to have turned away his face; he is humbly appealing for a decision from the Judge of All. The case of the criminal hanging beside him he would be able to dispose of by himself in a few moments:

"Today you will be with me in Paradise."

This, in contrast, forces him to lift his eyes above.

"My Father," we remember Jesus saying, "is greater than I."

Father in Bible times was the head of the family. It was not a courtesy title; it was real. He

Judge Defers Finding In Suit On Burial Site

Divorce Cases Cause Delay In Ruling For Hancock Injunction

The question of who is entitled to choose the burial place for a retired Chester potter — his widow or his children — is expected to be decided sometime this afternoon by First Judicial Circuit Judge Ralph E. Pryor.

The question arises from an injunction action filed last week in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland by the children of the late Lloyd V. West of Fairview Rd. against his widow, Mrs. Ruth Jones West, his second wife. The children of Mr. West, who died Wednesday in City Hospital after suffering a stroke, asked the injunction in protest of his second wife's choice of a burial site in Locust Hill Cemetery in Chester.

They asked in their request for a mandatory injunction that "the body be surrendered for burial in Wileyville, W. Va., and that burial be prohibited in Locust Hill Cemetery in Chester."

A lengthy hearing was held on the injunction Friday in Circuit Court in New Cumberland and Judge Pryor gave attorneys for plaintiffs and defense until this morning at 9:30 to file with him briefs relating to cases which may influence his ruling.

As the case is the first ever to be heard in the New Cumberland court, and believed one of the first ever filed in West Virginia, neither Atty. Callie Tsapis, representing the children, nor Atty. Frank Pietranton, representing Mr. West's second wife, are believed to have come up with any precedent-setting rulings bearing on the outcome of the case.

Senate Plays 'Game'

Ohio Bids To Be Deciding State On U.S. Amendment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If everything goes according to plan, Ohio late today will be the last needed state to ratify a U. S. constitutional amendment giving District of Columbia residents the right to vote for president.

Ohio senators are having a little fun playing a cat-and-mouse game to assure that the Buckeye State will be the one to put the D.C. suffrage amendment over the top. D.C. residents now have no vote of any kind.

So far, 36 states have ratified, but 38 states must act before the proposed 23rd Amendment becomes a part of the Constitution. Apparently, three states—Kansas,

New Hampshire and Ohio — are hocking for the 38th spot.

Available records indicate this would be the first time in the state's 158-year history that Ohio was the state to complete ratification.

Kansas was believed ready to act late last week, but it didn't. New Hampshire was reported ready to act late this week, but may speed up its move if Kansas and Ohio drag their heels.

Ohio, enjoying its ready-for-business position, can finish off the ratification business at any moment after 4:45 p.m., EST, today. Senate State Government Com-

SEATO Set To Move In Laos Crisis

8 Nations Expected To Study New Stand On Truce By Russia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Meeting under the threat of armed Communist takeover in nearby Laos, foreign ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today appeared ready to meet force with force if necessary.

The report from Moscow that the Soviet Union had approved the Western proposal for a ceasefire in Laos electrified the SEATO conference. But U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk cautioned an aide to wait for official word and added, "Any reply will have to be examined carefully before it can be assessed."

Rusk apparently spoke for most of the eight-nation alliance when he told the opening session of the SEATO Council of Foreign Ministers that "peace is possible only through restraining those who break it in contempt of law."

Rusk cited the Communist threat to both Laos and South Viet Nam and reminded the ministers that the alliance has an obligation "to assist the peoples of Southeast Asia in their fight for their freedom."

"Speaking for my country," the American continued, "I wish to assure the members of this organization and the peoples of Southeast Asia that the United States will live up to those responsibilities."

Rusk reportedly made an even stronger statement of the American position to officials of the U.S. Embassy just before the SEATO meeting, telling them that the United States would not flinch from positive action if the Soviet Union refuses to go along with a ceasefire in Laos. "We will fight if it is necessary," an American informant said.

The other seven foreign ministers from SEATO's member nations each spoke his concern about the crisis in Laos, where Communist-supplied Pathet Lao rebels have scored recently against the Western-backed royal government's troops.

Scattered Fights Mar 'Quieter' Front In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The fighting front continued quiet in Laos.

Scattered clashes in the civil war were reported but there was no sign of a major rebel offensive, said one Western military expert.

Jobless Claim Total Declines

Low For Year Listed As List Reaches 723

Claims for unemployment compensation have dropped sharply in East Liverpool in the last three weeks, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, said today.

After the total claims remained at 915 for the weeks ending March 4 and March 11, they dropped to 832 for the week ending March 18 and fell to a year's low of 723 for the week ending Saturday, Dinsmore said.

Both new and continued claims are included in the totals, he pointed out. Meanwhile, Dinsmore estimated 200 area residents may be eligible for additional benefits under the federal government's emergency aid program.

Approximately that many have exhausted their compensation rights, Dinsmore said, but figures can't be determined until information is received setting up specific dates.

Salem Girl Finishes Second

St. Aloysius Speller Wins

SINCE EACH HAD ADVANCED to the county finals, both the winner and the runnerup were happy at the conclusion of Saturday's countywide spelling bee here. Mary Ann McKeever, who finished first, is underscoring "accumulate", which proved too tough for Rosemary Fithian to handle. That isn't a new spelling of the word, however. Mary Ann's head is blocking off the "A".

By BYRON EELLS
Review Staff Writer

The fourth time was the charm for Mary Ann McKeever, an eighth-grader at St. Aloysius Parochial School, when she captured the county parochial spelling bee Saturday afternoon at St. Aloysius here.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKeever, 646 Minerva St., Mary Ann had three previous opportunities to win the spelldown when Rosemary Fithian of Salem St. Paul's missed words.

But Mary Ann also misspelled the words and the contest continued. Bee rules provide that when the bee is narrowed to the last two spellers the winner must correctly spell the word the other contestant missed and then spell one additional word.

Although, naturally, neither wanted to lose, it did seem for awhile that neither wanted to win the way the words were bouncing.

MISS McKEEVER, 13, and the Salem seventh-grader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Fithian, 482 E. 7th St., thus qualified for the countywide spelling contest April 7 in Lisbon.

Miss McKeever won the bee by spelling "accumulate" after it was missed by Rosemary and clinched the title with "machinist."

"Finale" was the end for Tom Bica, also of Salem, and the last of four boys in the contest. Young Bica had been spelling easily and confidently but clearly was baffled when Miss Ann Johnston, a principal in the East Liverpool public schools and pronouncer for the bee, gave him the word.

After Tom was eliminated, Rosemary then missed "accommodate" and it appeared the bee was over. However, Mary Ann accommodated her by also missing.

Rosemary later missed "municipal", but Mary Ann also was unable to spell it correctly. A few minutes later, the Salem girl

Belgian Vote May Lead To New Cabinet

Unionists Expected To Join Socialists, Succeed Right Wing

BRUSSELS (AP)—Election losses by the right wing of the Catholic party opened the prospect today that the party's trade union wing would join the Socialists to form a new cabinet.

Because of the traditional Catholic-Socialist rivalry, however, it appeared a lengthy period of negotiations would ensue before a new government could be formed to succeed Catholic Premier Gaston Eyskens' 28-month-old coalition of Catholic Social Christians and Conservative Liberals.

Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny of the Social Christians predicted a coalition of Social Christians, Socialists and Liberals. The Social Christian party president, Theo Lefevre, said his party "is not opposed to any political combination, nor does it advocate any—we are open to any solutions."

"All political combinations are now possible," said Socialist leader Paul-Henri Spaak. Another Socialist, former Foreign Minister Victor Larock, said any future government "will have to rest upon the world of labor."

In the voting for a new Parliament Sunday, the Catholics were the heaviest losers although remaining the country's largest party. The Socialists lost slightly, the Liberals gained slightly and the Communists and the pro-Flemish Volksunie party on the extreme right, while still making negligible showings, gained seats in Parliament.

The election stemmed from Eyskens' austerity law trimming unemployment compensation and other social security benefits and raising taxes to offset the loss of the Belgian Congo. The government pushed the law through Parliament despite a month-long strike by the Socialist unions in which three persons were killed, many injured and millions of dollars lost.

Loss Checked After Looting At State Store

West Virginia State Police From Weirton Today Were Investigating A Weekend Burglary Of The State Liquor Store In Chester.

Paul E. Edwards of Railroad St., manager of the Carolina Ave. outlet, said thieves hurled a huge chunk of concrete through reinforced glass in a back door and made off with an undetermined amount of liquor.

An inventory was to be taken today by Richard Burte of Wheeling, superintendent of stores in the Northern Panhandle.

The loss included only cases of fifths and pints of liquor, as the thieves did not tamper with the cash register.

Entry was gained by smashing out the glass in one of two back doors with a huge chunk of concrete dug from the street in the rear of the store, 505 Carolina Ave. The intruders apparently reached through the broken glass to unlatch the door. The glass was reinforced with chicken wire.

The thieves also tried to gain entrance to the Jackson Insurance Agency next door in the same

Holy Week Begins

Pilgrims Follow Christ's Journey Into Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP)—Latin Patriarch Alberto Gori led a Palm Sunday procession of 25,000 pilgrims from all over the world in the steps of Christ Sunday, opening Holy Week in the Holy Land.

Foreign consuls, Catholic bishops of the Assyrian and Roman rites and Holy Week tourists made the three-hour walk covering less than two miles.

They began at Bethpage, where crowds once gathered from pastoral villages to hail Jesus and cover with palms the path he traveled by donkey on his triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

The procession passed the Mount of Olives and Gethsemane and

U.S. Planning First 'Scope' Satellite Shot

Probe Will Search For Gamma Rays In Orbit Around Earth

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first U. S. telescope-in-the-sky satellite designed to tumble end over end 10 times a minute as it whirls through space, may be launched this week.

Space scientists hope it will give them an opportunity to explore beyond the curtain of the earth's atmosphere.

The satellite's mission will be to hunt gamma rays in every corner of space. These rays are similar to X rays, but of shorter wave length. They are emitted by radioactive substances.

The unique device, which resembles a telescope 7½ feet long, may be fired aloft this week from Cape Canaveral, Fla., the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today.

NASA said the tumbling motion "will enable the gamma ray tele-

Reds Accept British Plan To Negotiate

'Pravda' Discloses New Stand, Warns On SEATO Actions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the White House today on the heels of an announcement by the Soviet Union that it agrees with the British proposal for a truce and a negotiated settlement in Laos.

Gromyko plans to deliver a message to the President from Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

What Gromyko was to tell Kennedy was apparently foreshadowed by the Soviet announcement, made today through the official newspaper Pravda.

The article warned against intervention by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Laos and said in effect that force in Laos would be met by force. But its main emphasis was on the possibility of a peaceful solution.

Kennedy's meeting with Gromyko follows within 24 hours an allied strategy conference Kennedy held at Key West, Fla., Sunday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. They surveyed military measures in the making and announced: "The situation in Laos cannot be allowed to continue to deteriorate."

Pravda's article was signed "Observer," meaning it stemmed from the highest government authority. For the first time it mentioned the British note of March 23 proposing a ceasefire and the convening of a 14-nation conference to seek a permanent peace in Laos.

The Observer article also welcomed "the statement of the President that the United States wants peace in Laos and not war."

The article added: "They want to solve the problem in a conference and not on the battlefields. That is what the Soviet Union wants."

In Washington, there was no official immediate comment from the State Department. But officials said if the Pravda account turns out to be Soviet acceptance of the British proposals the United States will, of course, be very gratified.

They called attention to Kennedy's statement at a news conference last week that, "first, we strongly and unreservedly support the goal of a neutral and independent Laos tied to no outside power or group of powers, threatening no one and free from any domination."

Kennedy returned from Florida Sunday night and was handed a message from French President Charles de Gaulle. French Ambassador Herve Alphand delivered the note and rode with Kennedy from the airport to the White House, where they sat in the car talking in the driveway for another five minutes.

Kennedy worked in his White House office for about 45 minutes afterwards.

Kennedy had sent a message to De Gaulle Sunday, telling him he was meeting Macmillan and asking De Gaulle's latest views on the Laos crisis.

The show of unity with Macmillan strengthened the President's hand in advance of his session with Gromyko. It also promised strong British-American cooperation in dealing with the Laotian crisis at a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting which opens today at Bangkok, Thailand.

At Bangkok, Secretary of State Dean Rusk was quoted Sunday night as saying the United States will not flinch from positive action in Laos if the Soviet Union refuses to accept a cease fire there.

Rusk was reported to have said this to a staff conference at the U.S. Embassy. "Mr. Rusk made it clear the American attitude is a firm one," an informant said. "We will fight if it is necessary."

All Together At The Brink

As was the case whenever the late John Foster Dulles practiced what came to be known as "brinksmanship," Americans will put unity first in the crisis over Laos.

It will be reasserted that partisan politics must stop at the water's edge. No one in a position of responsibility will say anything publicly that could be interpreted as second-guessing the Kennedy administration's decision to move to the edge of a shooting war in a remote place in Asia.

Rationalizers will explain that the crisis in Laos has been a long time in the making; that it was a problem for the Eisenhower administration; that it was inherited by the Kennedy administration.

One and all, we will get ourselves into a crisis frame of mind, as we did over the situation in Cuba, the situation at Suez, the situation in Lebanon, the one in Iran, and the one in Hungary. But this one may turn out to be like the situation in Korea.

DECISIONS and events in Washington and around the world are suggestive once more of the rumblings of the machinery of international violence. The "brush war" that planning officials were discussing in the abstract in Washington only a few days ago is now a gunshot from being in the concrete.

Once more there is public opinion to be molded and given official shape, and once more millions of Americans with no knowledge of Laos and what is held to be at stake there are expected to help with the molding.

This is another move to offset the spread of Communist axis influence, we are told. Ostensibly, it is a showdown with the Soviet Union over the latter's attempt to get control of Laos through military intervention.

Russian intervention previously had, caused the United States to spend vast amounts of money to thwart Communist mischief in Laos. Intervention by both sides is not new. Only the scale is new.

The stakes in Laos have been raised. If the United States and its partners in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization want to stay in the game, they will have to meet the ante and raise it by a few hundred million dollars and thousands of troops.

TO THIS PROPOSITION there can be no dissent. Everybody will stand shoulder to shoulder. Americans are the only people to be taken into their government's confidence on momentous foreign policy decisions, and Laos will be a test of national poise.

The Laotians know next to nothing of what is happening in their country or what may happen if violence flares. Few Russians will have any knowledge of events in Laos. And few Chinese.

At the thought of the Red Chinese, composure at the brink falters. The Korean War was an attempt to thwart the spread of Russian Communist influence; it ended up in a full-blown war against hordes of Chinese swarming across the border to fight Americans.

THE TOUCH-AND-GO factor in Laos is what it always has been—the true identity of the opposition.

There are Communist Laotians, as there were Communist Koreans.

There are Communist Russians—not many, perhaps, but a few in key places.

There is Russian armament. There are Russian supplies.

But will there eventually be hordes of Red Chinese soldiers, too numerous to push back, too savage to defeat and too ominous to retreat from? Will there be another 38th parallel, another phony truce and another remote Asian garrison to be manned by U.S. troops? Is this going to be Korea all over again? Is this another trap?

There are the thoughts that come to mind as the Kennedy administration takes up the brinksmanship the Eisenhower administration sometimes was condemned for practicing at the expense of America's peace of mind.

The Wrong Number

Kids will be kids, but the foolishness of turning the telephone into an instrument of torment and torture is getting out of hand to the point where it's time for the offending youngsters to sit down and think the whole thing over.

The point is brought to mind again by a letter from a reader who complains about a girl "who insists on calling my grandmother and grandfather all hours of the night" and being positively "insulting". The girl, the letter-writer points out, admits "she just picked our name out of the book".

This is not an isolated case. The same thing happens frequently at other homes, reports disclose.

The complainant above asks: "Why don't you mothers and fathers explain to your teen-agers what a telephone is used for?"

Not a bad idea at all! It probably would help the problem completely, but a good heart-to-heart talk with your children might serve to cut down the asinine calls that have become annoying to quite a few people.

Sacred Cow With Four Wheels

Snorts of indignation were heard when Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze told a congressional committee automobiles may have to be barred from congested business districts some day. The mayor was supporting a federal handout to improve big-city transportation.

Here are two related problems that will be solved eventually by circumstances no one presently can foresee. But one thing is starting to be visible. The claim that the automobile in America is like a sacred cow in India—privileged to go anywhere—is weakening.

THE AUTOMOBILE is not a sacred cow. There are places where it should not be permitted now, and there are places where it will not be permitted in the future. There are limits to tolerance for even a thing as useful and as popular as an automobile.

It should not be assumed that everything in America must be accommodated to the needs of this four-wheeled "cow." It should not be assumed, either, that the federal government should use general funds to bail out cities that have swamped themselves with auto traffic. Their transportation problems are their own. They do not belong to the whole U.S. public.

There is a limit to the supportable size of cities as well as a limit to the scope of automobile inside cities. No one is going to claim that automobiles should be stopped at the city limits, though that argument has been used, but neither is anyone going to claim there should be no limit to places where automobiles are permitted.

Agreements not now within reach are going to become reachable eventually. It will be agreed eventually that no street or highway built for the movement of auto traffic should be used for parked cars for instance. They are not permitted on toll roads and expressways and eventually will not be permitted on main thoroughfares of any kind.

IN THE SAME WAY, it will be agreed eventually that automobiles have no place in areas where pedestrians have prior rights—parks, playgrounds, certain shopping districts, bridge paths, college campuses, for example.

People were on the earth before cars. They have prior rights that even this most sacred of all American symbols of materialism worship must respect. When people finally decide to assert themselves, there will be places in the United States where a pedestrian will be safe with his eyes closed.

Reason To Be Proud

While she didn't walk off with one of the top prizes, Ohio—and Wellsville in particular—can be proud of Miss Linden Lee MacLean, who represented the Buckeye state in the nationwide Junior Miss competition last week at Mobile, Ala.

You can be sure that the charm and effervescent personality of the Wellsville High School senior left a favorable impression on the many new acquaintances she made during her stay in the South. And it was an honor in itself to be among the 50 finalists.

Wellsville and the state of Ohio undoubtedly have many new friends as the result of Miss MacLean having participated in the pageant.

Someone Must Take The Blame

It's a safe bet that individuals still will be taking the blame for organizational foul-ups a thousand years from now.

The latest flagrant example of the way blame is placed when someone has to take it is the Air Force charge that three officers neglected their duty in connection with the collapse of the Texas Tower radar station off the Jersey coast last Jan. 15.

Undoubtedly, the three officers so charged had misgivings about the safety of the tower, which previously had been damaged and was undergoing repair. They must have known what the men on the tower knew, that it had been nicknamed "Old Shaky."

The men lived in fear of their safety. They were to have been taken off the next day if conditions continued to be bad. They would have been taken off the day the tower collapsed if conditions had not been too bad to permit their removal.

Here were the usual elements of an official snafu—a group of people involved in an uncertain and dangerous situation, with no one willing or able to make the definitive decision that would bring a showdown. Here was a snafu like Pearl Harbor, where disaster ultimately was rationalized for the official record by making scapegoats of two officers. Here was every military situation that has come apart at the seams and has had to be rationalized for the record.

Someone always must take the blame for institutional disaster, whether it happens to be some officers who actually had a part in the decision-making or someone else who couldn't have changed things one way or the other.

A large measure of public sympathy now belongs to the three men who have been singled out as responsible for the deaths of 28 men in the Texas Tower disaster. They know now in a small way how Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short felt when they had to shoulder the blame for 3,303 deaths at Pearl Harbor.

The presence of the deadly carbon monoxide gas in any enclosed place can be readily detected by its effect on a tomato plant, which wilts within a minute or two.

Jobless Map March To Washington

By Victor Riesel

AUBURN, N. Y. I have crisscrossed the highways of the land and I have found the people restless and disturbed. Congress soon will be able to see surging uneasiness. The unemployed are going to Washington. They will gather by the thousands in the prominent squares.

This will not be a "Coxey's Army." The jobless will come in trains and sleep on them in the depot and on the sidings until they hear the President.

He will speak to them—perhaps as many as 20,000 will gather soon in the nation's capital—for this is as he wants it. There has been word from the White House to the "House of Labor" across the street that John Kennedy would like the nation's labor leaders to stir the country-side and let the noise be heard inside the Congress.

These AFL-CIO chiefs are not reluctant stirrers. They appear to be all set with plans of their own and are ready for the "march" or "parade" on Congress.

THE JOBLESS demonstrations will be directed by a two-man subcommittee on unemployment of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in consultation with Mr. Labor himself, George Meany.

Heading the strategists is Communications Workers of America President Joseph Beirne.

It is their plan to draw the jobless from depressed area communities such as this one, where one out of every eight workers has been unemployed for months, and from the West Coast, where there have been aircraft layoffs, and from Pittsburgh, where there have been steel retrenchments, and from Detroit, where auto plant employees have had to take work furloughs.

The committee's plan is to have each central labor council in virtually all the state capitals run mass meetings and pass resolutions asking Congress for swift passage of John Kennedy's proposed legislation.

Then the group will march at least 15 unemployment demonstrations in the "hardest hit" cities, which they say run from Los Angeles right on through Wheeling, W. Va., into Pittsburgh and some Ohio steel communities and on to New York City.

THEN THESE JOBLESS will be moved into Washington, mostly by train and bus caravans. With these as mobile lodging places the unemployed will fan out to a series of hotel ballrooms. There they will meet with their congressional delegations.

Finally they will march up Pennsylvania Avenue to the steps of the Capitol. There they expect to hear John Kennedy.

Their target date is late April or the first week in May. This is just about the time they expect Congress to debate the minimum wage bill; the multi-billion dollar road building program; the educational proposal for construction of 136,000 classrooms and the old struggle for medical aid to the aging.

It is the feeling of both the White House and labor's leadership that the bills will be bogged down in Congress just about six weeks from now. That's when they will bring in their restless people.

There is more here than even the concern over the jobless of 1961. White House economists and their friends inside labor have written 1961 off as a recovery date. They now are deeply worried over the threat of new jobless ranks in 1962. These will come from the "war babies"—1.2 million of them coming of age annually compared with the average 700,000 increase in the labor force each year of the '50s.

THIS COULD well carry the jobless total to more than six million—even if the recession lifts and production goes up with it.

Long before workers are recalled to their plants, the companies will first have to increase the hours of those already working in the plants.

Only then, after the 40-hour week is reached by the staff on hand, will the jobless start being rehired.

Furthermore, because the recession hit hard in many areas, many firms have put in more efficient machinery. This means fewer workers will be rehired.

There would, in fact, have been far more jobless if President Eisenhower had not increased defense spending during the last half of '60 and if President Kennedy had not increased highway construction spending in the past two months.

Now Mr. Kennedy and his labor allies want a few billion dollars authorized swiftly to keep 1962 from being dragged down by '61.

That's what they'll be shouting for when the jobless mount the steps of the national Capitol.

Sweet Revenge

By Raymond Moley

Sweet are the uses of Judge Howard Smith's adversity. Now that, under the powerful pressures of the White House, Cabinet officers and Speaker Rayburn, the Rules Committee has been enlarged by three members, Smith and his old colleagues intend to slap through the committee many bills and send them to the floor.

The members who have always excused the failure of measures given lip service by the liberals will now have to stand up and be counted. Their excuse has been eliminated.

This will cause no end of pain to members because it has always been so easy for members to introduce bills and to speak for them which the members concerned really do not favor at all.

Their nominal support has been given to satisfy this or that pressure group or special interest. Now they will have to vote on them and in many cases, by a yea and nay count.

The whole "revolution" was reeking with hypocrisy. There were always means of getting bills before the House for a vote despite the refusal of the Rules Committee to approve it for action.

THREE OF THOSE means were: Calendar Wednesday, when all committee chairmen have an opportunity to call bills up regardless of what is done in the Rules Committee; suspension of the rules by a two-thirds vote; a discharge petition signed by, in the present House, 219 members.

In a long statement one of the House members who voted with Rayburn for the enlargement of the Rules Committee has attempted to explain why he believes the three methods noted above have been useless.

He said that so far as Calendar Wednesday is concerned the various committees must be called consecutively on consecutive Wednesdays.

That means for example that the school aid bill would have to wait until the Wednesday arrived which would permit the committee in charge of the bill to have its turn. That might involve a few weeks.

Next he said that the suspension of the rules requires unanimous consent. But he adds that there are ways to get around that restriction by a two-thirds vote.

Discharge by petition, he says, was attempted but failed because the sponsors of the petitions were unable to get more than about 100 signatures.

All of this is completely specious argument. The Congress of the United States is a deliberative body. That means simply that hasty legislation is generally bad legislation.

OVER THE YEARS it has been

Laos Outlook Gloomy

By James Marlow

U.S. Doesn't Figure To Win In Present Crisis

WASHINGTON The United States doesn't figure to win in Laos. A cease fire and neutralization of the country is about the best the United States can hope for. Even that has its gloomy side.

No wonder President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew to Key West Sunday to talk over the situation. No wonder, either, that while they made stern talk, it was careful.

In the first place, the rainy season soon will begin in Laos. It will last until November, turning the few and poor roads into swamps. Any troops sent in would have slow going. There is no railroad.

It's a land of mountains and jungles, no place for big armies. Guerrilla war would be more like it, with help from airlifts. But Russia could send in supplies by air, just as it's doing now. So is the United States.

Further, there is great apathy among the gentle Laotians. To complicate it even more, the Laotians are split into tribes. Among them many reportedly have scant feelings of nationalism.

Those who want the country neutral between the West and communism outnumber those who support the Red-led Pathet Lao in the north and right-wing American-backed forces in the south.

While American allies in Southeast Asia might supply most of the ground forces sent into Laos—if that became necessary—this country would have to do most of the supplying.

Except by air, that would be tough, long-way-around supplying. For this country to use nuclear weapons to win in Laos seems out of the question. If it tried, it's highly questionable it could win.

The Russians, backing the rebels, are good with nuclear weapons, too.

Kennedy last week told his news conference the United States didn't want to be trapped or drawn into a Laotian war. Before that, though, he had turned thumbs down on nuclear fighting in Southeast Asia.

On Oct. 16, 1959, he said: "In practice our nuclear retaliatory power is not enough. It cannot deter Communist aggression which is too limited to justify atomic war."

"It cannot protect uncommitted nations against a Communist takeover using local or guerrilla forces. It cannot be used in a so-called 'brush - fire' peripheral war."

War in Laos would be peripheral. Still the United States could not afford to avoid taking a stand if the Russians refused a cease fire. The loss of American prestige in Southeast Asia and the world would be too great.

Further, since Laos has four non-Communist neighbors—Thailand, Burma, Cambodia and South Viet Nam—Communist control of all Laos would be preliminary to a push against the neighbors.

Even with a truce and cease fire, it is unlikely the Communists will yield that northern part of Laos which they hold now. A cease fire probably would wind up in a divided Laos.

Then it would be only time before the Reds, without open renewal of the fighting, began infiltrating southern Laos to take over from inside.

When a 1954 truce in Indochina ended the fighting between the French and the Reds, the northern half of Viet Nam was kept by the Communists, the southern half by a government tied to the West.

But now, seven years after the division, Communist guerrillas from the north have started operating in South Viet Nam.

Federal Aid To Schools

By Victor Wilson

When a freshman congressman comes up with an idea that starts top government attorneys burning midnight oil, that's news—even in bias Washington.

He is Rep. Roman Conrad Pucinski, D-Ill., elected to serve Chicago's 11th District in 1958 and now beginning his second term.

This makes him so much of a Capitol Hill freshman that he has only one committee assignment—the House's Education and Labor Committee.

It so happens, though, that this is the House committee to which President Kennedy's education bill—which bars federal funds to parochial and other private schools—has been sent.

Of Polish extraction, and a Roman Catholic himself, Rep. Pucinski quickly sensed the heat that would be generated by this emotion-stirring legislation.

"This was an issue, with religion mixed in, that could tear the country apart," he said. "But I also believed that if reasonable men would try, they could always find a solution to any problem."

Rep. Pucinski decided to try.

He wrote a letter to the Internal Revenue Service director asking if it would be legal—and constitutional—for a person sending his children to a private school to deduct the tuition from his federal income tax.

APPARENTLY this letter was rocketed to top administration attorneys for decision. The midnight oil-burning began, and the lawyers are now reported to have advised the President there is no constitutional bar to allowing such a deduction.

Barring accidents, a d Washington is a legislatively accident-prone city, adoption of this idea might solve the dilemma facing school legislation.

First, it would permit adoption of the Kennedy school bill without direct federal aid, or even loans, to religious or other private schools, which the President holds is unconstitutional.

Second, however, it could satisfy the Catholic hierarchy by allowing that church's communicants income - tax deduction for tuition they pay, in one way or another, for sending their offspring to Catholic schools.

Their complaint now is, that they are taxed for the public-school system but must also pay for their private-school set-up.

Rep. Pucinski himself doesn't know whether the Internal Revenue Service will rule that such a deduction is legal. But if it doesn't he's ready to introduce a bill and try to get it through Congress making it legal.

Rep. Pucinski attended Chicago's public schools, Northwestern University and John Marshall Law School there. (He was born in Buffalo May 13, 1919, but was taken to the Windy City as a child.

wound up as a bomber pilot in the 20th Air Force.

Mustered out in 1945, he enrolled at John Marshall Law School and studied three years, meanwhile working, too, as a political reporter. One of his newspaper chores in 1948 was to run a straw poll on the presidential election.

He found he couldn't conduct the straw poll and go to law school, too, so he dropped out of school and never did get a law degree.

LATER, a special House committee to investigate the massacre of 15,000 Polish officers in Katyn Forest during World War II, was seeking a man who was trained to look for facts, knew a little law and spoke Polish.

Mr. Pucinski filled all three requirements and he was hired as the committee's investigator, taking a leave of absence from his paper.

That taste of congressional doings, plus an interest in politics as a reporter, decided him to make a try for Congress. He did in 1956 and lost. But he made it in 1958.

Getting back to the school bill, Rep. Pucinski says he learned something in the 106th Cavalry that's really helped him in Congress. Namely, that horses are a like people. If you co-operate with the horse he'll cooperate with you.

He thinks this can apply to the federal aid to education situation.

ruled, he decided. "Fifty-fifty relationships" and dining-table councils were unheard of; they do not fit in the family of God. The divine Father is absolute. Thank God, he is also loving and not only just, merciful and not always stern. Be grateful with me that even the lowest of us has an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous.

"Forgive them," Jesus prayed. An acquaintance of mine was once challenged by a scoffer to describe the Christian faith in ten words.

"I can't do it," my friend confessed; then, after a minute's reflection, he added, "But I can—in one." Looked at through the eyes of God, that one word is "grace," unmerited goodness. From the viewpoint of man, it is "forgiveness."

RIGHT HERE was the meaning and incentive of Jesus' whole life. It is why Christ came to earth. This petition on his cross is the distillation of his soul. In a proverb of India the wish is expressed that man would imitate the "sandalwood tree which blesses with its fragrance the one that smites it." In Christ this aroma is uplifted into the very nature of God.

It spreads, too, as far as eye sight can reach. The disciples who deserted, the priests who hated, the mobsters who shrieked for his life, the governor who mis-handled justice, the soldiers who callously stared at him, all were included in Christ's limitless pardon.

As his lips moved, his compassionate eyes not only gazed horizontally over his own generation but vertically down the centuries to come. No one, nobody at all, is excluded. Nor are we.

Who can miss the implication for himself? If I am to be a son of the forgiving Father, I must forgive my brother also.

Billionaire Curbs High Phone Bills

LONDON (AP) — Paul Getty, one of the world's richest and most prudent men, said today he has installed a pay telephone in his stately English mansion.

"People are funny about telephones," said the American multimillionaire. "They'll come as guests and make long-distance telephone calls all over the world."

When you speak to them about it, they look surprised and say: "I spoke 30 minutes? Why, it's impossible. It couldn't have been more than three minutes."

Getty said that guests are not the main problem, however.

"I've got some splendid servants now," he explained, "but in the past, well, er, some of them were calling up relatives in Scotland and talking and talking. That all went on my bill."

Speaking in his slow Oklahoma drawl, he added: "And then there's the question of workmen. We have a lot of them at Sutton Place. They're always calling relatives and friends in London."

Sutton Place, south of London, is one of England's most beautiful homes. Getty is said to have paid about $2.8 million to buy it from the Duke of Sutherland.

"A call to London costs one and three"—one shilling three pence—18 cents—said Getty, "and when you get some fellow talking for 10 or 15 minutes, well, it all adds up. So, I've installed a coin-box telephone."

300 At Lisbon Service

LISBON — Over 300 attended the first of a series of pre-Easter services Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, sponsored by the Lisbon Ministerial Association for all Lisbon churches. Dr. Thomas S. Kepler, professor of New Testament languages and literature at Oberlin College, was guest speaker. Services will continue to night through Thursday. A Good Friday service will be held by Dr. Kepler.

Judge

Atty. Pryor previously was expected to rule this morning, but it was learned he is busy in Ohio County Circuit Court in Wheeling hearing divorce cases and probably will announce his decision this afternoon.

The sons and daughters of the late Mr. West, who was 75, ask that his burial site be alongside his first wife and the plaintiffs' mother, Mrs. Ruth Amanda Pittman West, in the Church of Christ Cemetery in Wileyville, Wetzel County.

It was brought out in their testimony that they believed Mr. West had mentioned a preference for burial in Wileyville.

Mrs. West testified that her late husband had not mentioned any preference for burial. Mr. West was a member of the Chester Church.

Mrs. West, 34, and her husband became separated in June 1960 over his religious affiliations, it was brought out in the testimony. She resided in a house in Glenmoor owned by her late husband.

Though the couple was "on good terms," the fact that they had become separated is expected to have a bearing on Judge Pryor's ruling, some court officials believe.

Services for Mr. West were held Saturday afternoon in the Chester Church of Christ. Burial is not planned until the ruling is made on the injunction.

Accident-Free Town

Is Named Accident

ACCIDENT, Md. — Despite its name, this town of 242 people hasn't had a traffic fatality in 20 years. But its eye-catching postmark is in great demand with safety campaigners who mail their accident prevention literature from Accident.

Historically, the name came about in this way: King George II gave a grant of 600 acres anywhere in western Maryland to George Deakins in payment of a debt. Anxious to find the best area, Deakins sent out two different corps of engineers, who came up with identical survey maps. Could it be an accident?

Probably the slowest-moving creature in the world is the ordinary snail, which covers a mile in about three weeks.

Keepers At Zoo Treat Large Sprained Ankle

CLEVELAND — Keepers at the Cleveland Zoo have been treating one of the largest sprained ankles on record.

Flippy, a 9-year-old African male elephant, apparently became excited when a structure near the Pachyderm Building caught fire. Keepers think he twisted his leg in his chain or the bars.

They have been soaking the swollen ankle — 40 inches around — in a 30-gallon tub of hot water and epsom salts and encouraging Flippy to keep his $4,000 pounds off of it.

Youthful Businessman

Says 'Deal Is A Deal'

WICHITA, Kan. — A boy shoveled the snow off the walk in front of a store here — then shoveled half of it back.

The store manager said he had two witnesses that he promised the youngster 35 cents for the job. The young shoveler understood the price to be 75 cents.

Accepting the 35 cents, the boy put back half the snow. Turning down a proffered 15 cents more, he explained:

"A deal is a deal."

Bartender's Reputation

Wide As Tax Specialist

CLIFTON, Ariz. — Frank B. Alvirez, a bartender, has achieved a reputation as a specialist in figuring income taxes.

Each year rich and poor line up for his advice. He gives it free, but some of Frank's friends drop tokens of thanks into a gallon whiskey bottle placed on the bar.

Once a year, Alvirez tips the jug and pours several hundred dollars into the March of Dimes campaign.

Burglaries

Medical Laboratory, 124 W. 5th St., over the week end.

Police were called to investigate after the breaking and entering was discovered this morning.

Dr. Dunlap said the offices were entered between Saturday afternoon and this morning. The thief broke a basement window to enter the Medical Laboratory, ransacking the office before going upstairs to enter Dr. Dunlap's office. It couldn't be determined immediately if the adjoining office of Dr. Charles Gerace was entered.

The unsuccessful burglaries were at the Ravine St. plant of the Troy Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co. and the Parts Service Co. building at Bradshaw Ave. and Ravine St., officers said.

The attempted burglary at Parts Service occurred between 5:30 p. m. Friday and 8:30 a. m. Sunday, officers said. Paul Craven is the owner.

The would-be intruder attempted unsuccessfully to force locks on the doors on the west and north sides of the building. Then he broke a 12-x-18-inch pane of glass in a window on the east side of the building and reached through the opening to unlock the window.

But he was prevented from entering by bars welded over the opening, police said.

The attempted entry at the Troy plant was discovered by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corns, the owners. The attempt apparently was made between 6:25 p. m. Saturday and 9:20 p. m. Sunday, officers said.

A piece of glass was cut out of a pane in a door next to a lock, but the would-be intruder was frustrated when he attempted to manipulate the lock and bars over the opening, officers said. A glass cutter apparently was used to make the hole in the pane, police said.

Then the would-be burglar removed a storm window on the northeast side of the building, but apparently he was frightened away before he could enter, police said.

In order to work in darkness, the intruder unscrewed an electric light bulb over the door, officers said.

Joseph R. Gebauer, 1520 Smithfield St., told police various articles were stolen from his car while it was parked in his garage on Princeton Ave. between 10:15 p. m. Saturday and 5:45 a. m. Sunday. The loss included a four-speed transmission, a clutch plate and a pressure plate, he said.

Edith M. Chrest, 737 Chester Ave., notified police at 10:46 a. m. Saturday that a pair of ear rings valued at $250 was stolen from a metal box in the dining room at her home sometime between Christmas and the time of the report. She said she is the only person who has a key to the box where the ear rings were kept.

"If I ran the school," one youngster wrote, "we would not have showstudies and langange and seimens. We would not have tests on spelling either."

Pilgrims

Peter's, the world's biggest church, was chosen this year for the pontiff's appearance instead of the basilica of St. Paul outside the walls to give the throngs of pilgrims more room.

More than 50,000 assembled in the huge church and the square outside to cheer the 79-year-old pope as he was carried by on his portable throne. The pope blessed a huge pile of 180 palm branches and personally distributed them to 18 cardinals, scores of bishops and archbishops and other church officials.

Holy Week in largely Catholic Poland found the church locked in struggle with the country's Communist rulers. The country's prime minister, Stefan Cardinal Wysynski, said in his Palm Sunday sermon that Polish Catholics face forces dedicated to "hunting down God in our souls and destroying traces of his existence in our personal lives."

Course On 'Mixed'

Dancing Misdemeanor

CLEVELAND — "Mixed Dancing" is one of the courses offered for the women's physical education requirements at Western Reserve University's Flora Stone Mather College. There's usually a line of coeds waiting to sign up.

"They think the 'mixed' means men and women," says instructor Kathy Karipides. "Then they find out the 'mixed' means forms of dancing, such as square, folk and modern."

There are no men in the class.

Amendment

Committee Chairman Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, has called a special committee hearing for 4 p. m., EST, today to report the House-approved ratification resolution to the Senate floor. Then the Senate will go into session, holding the resolution in its Rules Committee until the 37th state ratifies. Then Ohio will go into action.

When ratified, the 23rd Amendment will give the District of Columbia three votes in the U.S. Electoral College which casts the actual votes for president. That number is equal to the number of votes cast by the least populous state.

In Ohio, as elsewhere, the proposed amendment has bipartisan support. In Ohio, Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Toledo, has joined with Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Nelsonville, to assure that the Ohio Senate is ready to suspend its rules and act quickly on ratification as soon as some other state has become the 37th to ratify.

Senators began their little game as Ohio lawmakers returned to Columbus for their 13th work week since the 104th General Assembly went into session Jan. 2.

Both houses convene at 4:30 p. m. instead of the customary 8 p. m., to provide additional time for committee hearings. Heavy schedules have been posted in an effort to speed legislative action on a record number of pending measures.

Among measures up for a vote in the House is one to make $3 non-resident fishing licenses good for 15 days. Sponsors said the present 10-day limit is awkward for visitors who usually have at least two weeks to spend on vacations in Ohio.

On Tuesday, the House votes on proposals to exempt from the sales tax meals served on six occasions during a year by churches and nonprofit organizations, provide for continuity of government operations in event of enemy attack and penalize fraudulent use of credit cards to make telephone calls.

Major measure on the Senate docket provides for a uniform commercial code for business transactions.

scope, aimed out through the end to scan a portion of the surrounding space every six seconds."

The 82-pound satellite will be launched into an elliptical, low-inclination orbit so it can scan the sun during the early part of its lifetime.

In order to provide the extra length and weight needed to attain a tumbling motion, its 44-inch fourth-stage rocket casing will remain attached to the telescope satellite.

Plans call for the satellite to orbit between the altitudes of 300 and 700 miles. It is expected to circle the earth about every 93 minutes to have a useful lifetime of six months to a year, and to remain in orbit for more than three years.

The primary objectives will be to detect high energy gamma rays from cosmic sources—our own galaxy and neighboring galaxies—and to map their distribution in the sky.

Dutch Bavarian Cream Brings Compliments

A fancy chocolate dessert that will win compliments from dinner guests is Dutch Bavarian cream. It tastes just as luscious as it looks, too, because the ingredients are richly delicious — eggs, heavy cream, sugar and instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix.

The mix, which blends instantly with hot or cold milk, is made entirely of fine holland cocoa and has an extra chocolate flavor. It's a great favorite of youngsters for beverages and desserts.

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
2 tablespoons cold water
4 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix
1 cup heavy cream, whipped Extra whipped cream and maraschino cherries (for decorating)

Soften gelatine in cold water. Beat egg yolks until light and fluffy; blend in sugar. Scald milk with vanilla extract. Gradually pour scalded milk over beaten egg yolks; stirring rapidly. Cook over boiling water; stirring constantly until mixture is smooth, thick and coats metal spoon. Add softened gelatine and instant Dutch chocolate flavored mix; stir until gelatine is dissolved and mixture is well blended.

Cool until partially set. Beat whites until stiff but not dry; fold into chocolate mixture; fold in whipped cream. Pour into 1½-quart mold which has been rinsed with ice water. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Unfold just before serving. Decorate with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

Makes 8 servings.

Slimming Project Really 'Pays'

Up in Nanaimo, British Columbia, a real estate firm is paying its overweight employees to lose. They get $25 for the first 10 pounds of excess weight taken off, and $2.50 for each additional pound.

"It makes for greater efficiency," claims the company manager. "I just ate a good balanced diet including bread and potatoes, foods fat folks generally think are taboo when reducing."

"In order to help people who have lost and are trying to keep their weight down, I want to point out my system. I get on the scales every morning. I try to stay between 120 and 124 ... never over 124. This way I can have an occasional treat."

"I dropped from a size 16 or 18 to a perfect size 12. My husband and friends encouraged me and those compliments strengthened my staying power. My only regret is that I didn't do something about my weight a lot sooner."

Even now, two years later, I still meet people who don't recognize me."

Congratulations to this young woman. She has succeeded in overcoming the dangerous time for reducers.

Dieters, watch your newly-reached weight level carefully for at least three months. Hold fast to re-trained food preferences. Increase calories very gradually.

Your metabolic rate is lower at the end of a prolonged reducing period and you are predisposed to gain. Experiment.

ADD ONLY 50 calories to your daily intake ... a larger serving of meat, or a favorite fruit. The protective reducing pattern you followed is the foundation of a healthful eating plan.

Take it easy. Give your metabolism a chance to adjust to your new weight and you can hold this desirable weight level with no difficulty.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

42 Freight Cars Derail In Wapakoneta Crash

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — About 350 yards of main-line track of the Nickel Plate Railroad were ripped up Sunday in derailment of 42 freight cars near here. A broken wheel truck on the 31st car of the 103-car freight was blamed for the accident. No one was injured.

Twenty-five of the cars piled up and another 17 derailed but remained upright. Besides the damage to the track, about 300 feet of an adjoining spur suffered damage.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wesley E. Disney, 77, U.S. representative from Oklahoma from 1930 to 1946, died Sunday of a heart attack.

5 Children Drown In Indiana River

SCHNEIDER, Ind. (AP) — A beautiful day of picnicking and fishing ended in death for five children Sunday night when a small rowboat loaded with 10 persons sank in Kankakee River floodwater.

The 10-foot boat had left a cottage rented for the day by Ted Bell, 49, Calumet City, Ill. It was headed for the main shore line where the families had parked their cars. Seventy yards offshore in water 15 feet deep, Bell said he speeded up the outboard motor and suddenly "water poured over the bow and we sank."

Three of Bell's children, Theodora, 5; Charlotte, 13, and Kenneth, 4, drowned along with Debbie Murzyn, 2, and Regina Murzyn, 5.

Bell said, "We started taking water. I grabbed for the kids. All of a sudden we were all in the water, the kids screaming and trying to reach us, and nobody knowing what to do. It was horrible."

Book Exhibit Opens

WEIRTON — A book exhibit is on display today in the Dunbar elementary school. It will be open to the public through Thursday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Robert Lindsey, assistant superintendent of Hancock County schools, said the exhibit is of particular interest to teachers, parents, librarians and professional workers.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Can Be Trained To Eat All Foods

How wonderful it is when the child from two to five enjoys the food set before him. Most mothers know what is a wholesome meal for a child. Others can easily find out. But those mothers who may know most about proper diet for the child, may succeed least at cultivating in him a good appetite for it. Dr. Garry Meyers

Some mothers grow so concerned that the child shall eat enough of all the foods that they defeat their own purpose. They suppose they should command the child to eat, or should push the food into him when he refuses it, and the more they strive in this direction, the weaker grows his appetite for the proper food and the more resistant to it he becomes.

THEN, OTHER members of the family at the table may add their bit of annoyance to the child by their silly talk urging him to eat. The first thing to do is to make sure they say nothing about his food or his eating it and that you also say nothing or show any annoyance when he doesn't eat what you offer him, or as much as you wish.

As a rule, if these conditions are met, the child will acquire a healthy appetite and enjoy what you prepare for him, especially if you can proceed in this direction for many days, weeks and months.

But if his resistance to certain essential foods has gone on for many weeks and months, removing all such annoyance to him over foods may not suffice. Of first importance is to make sure he has no sweets like candy, cookies and soft drinks between meals and, as a rule, no other food except perhaps some fruit juice. The hungrier he is at the regular mealtime, the more ready he will be to eat the food offered him.

a particular food. Instead, tell him he can't have another food he wants until he has eaten the very tiny portion of this food. In general, you cultivate his appetite for an essential food as you withhold a less essential food he prefers.

My bulletin "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I treat the hairline cracks in a plastered wall before painting it?

A. These should be treated, because the paint color will change along the cracks as the broken plaster absorbs the paint oils. First rinse the wall and let dry thoroughly. Then, to seal the cracks, use a mixture of one part unthinned, highly elastic varnish to one part unthinned paint, blended thoroughly. Make certain to brush the sealing preparation into the cracks, as well as over them. When dry, apply your flat paint of the desired color.

Q. What is the best way to separate some unused postage stamps that have become stuck fast together?

A. Put these stamps into the freezer compartment of your refrigerator. Then, after an hour or two, pull them gently apart, and you'll find the mucilage intact.

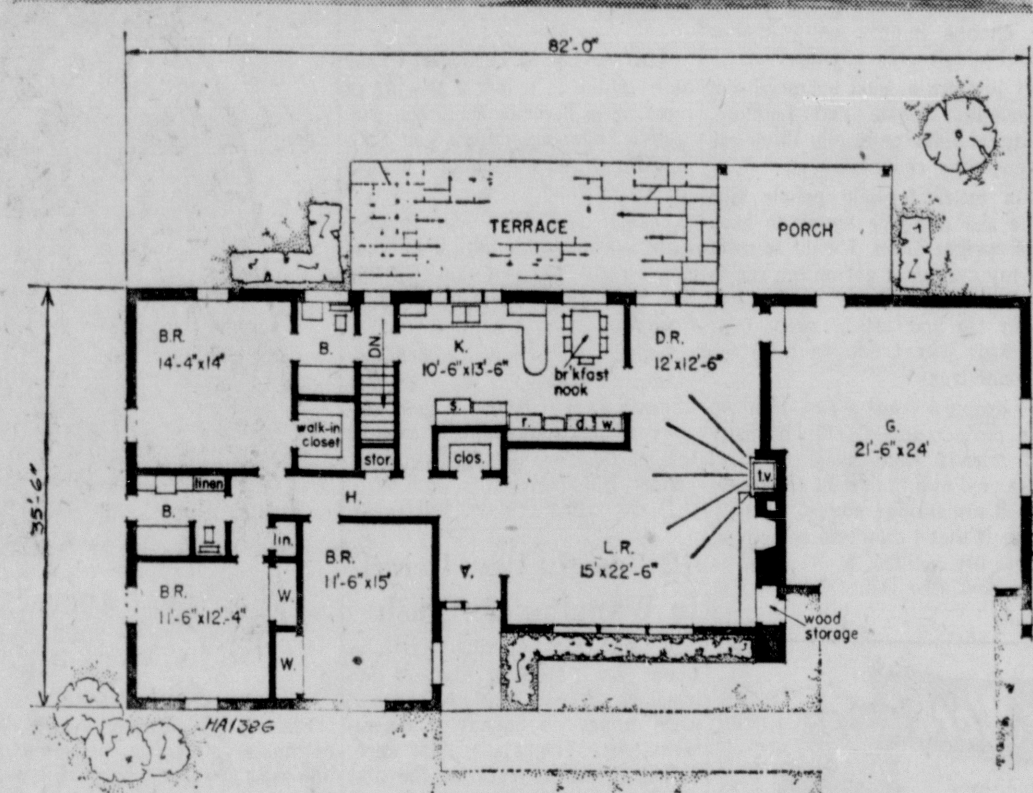

Q. How can I clean and whiten the ivory handles on my knives?

A. Half a lemon, dipped into salt and rubbed on these ivory knife handles, has a whitening effect.

THEN BE SURE the foods are attractively prepared with variety within the range of good nutrition and offered in very, very small portions, one at a time.

If it is string beans or carrots, it's better to offer only one piece of bean, half an inch long, or a small disc of carrot, than a spoonful of each.

Never tell the child he must eat

HANDY RANCH. All rooms are easily accessible from the front vestibule in this 1,857-square-foot ranch-type home. In addition, a rear bathroom is handy to both kitchen and back yard so children playing outside do not have to track up the entire house. The architect is Elmer Gylleck, Box 77, Elgin, Ill. and the plan is HA183G.

'Hot Tips' Given On Flow Of Water

AP Newsfeatures

Question: We have a one-family, two-story house with a bathroom on each floor.

Since we moved in, about two years ago, we have had trouble with getting hot water as soon as the faucet is turned on. It always seems to take a minute or two until the hot water begins to run. We had in a plumber some months ago and he said we needed a circulating system.

We didn't do anything about it then, but have decided to have it taken care of. Was the plumber right?

Answer: We can't be 100 percent certain that the plumber was correct in the condition existing in your house, for the simple reason that different solutions are necessary for different problems. But the chances are that he made the proper diagnosis. The installation of a circulating system is a recommended cure for hot water problems of this nature. This system calls for placing pipe loops between the hot water heater and the individual fixtures.

When hot water comes from the faucet the instant it is turned on, there is a considerable savings over the course of a year in water and fuel. Another remedy for delayed hot water is to insulate the pipes.

This is something you can do yourself with insulation purchased at a hardware store, although you might get an estimate on it from the plumber who is hired to put in the circulating system.

Science Adds New Strength To Wallpaper

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Thanks to science, the products that go into our homes get better with each passing year.

Yet somehow, few of us think of wallpaper as one of the items in this category. The paper that was on the walls of grandma's home seems very much like the wallpaper we see today.

Actually, there have been many changes in wallpaper in the last 10 to 15 years.

One of the most important is the addition of a chemical known as melamine to the pulp. This chemical gives the paper added strength, so that when wet paste is applied to it, or pre-pasted paper is dunked in water the paper can be handled easily without tearing.

Another important addition is the use of vinyl or related plastic materials, both in coating and in color pigment.

This makes the paper flexible, tough and waterproof. The surface resists scuffing and chipping and is now washable or scrubable, depending on how much plastic is used in the manufacturing technique.

Some of today's papers are fabric-backed, which facilitates the removal of the paper from the wall when that day comes. Fabric-backed paper can be pulled off the wall in one piece instead of being soaked and scraped off.

Apart from the important qualities of durability and cleanliness, much progress has been made in printing techniques.

An important trend is seen in raised printing, where the color is applied thickly to give a three-dimensional effect. Simulated textures, such as bamboo, brick or wood, all have been improved by the use of this raised printing. You see it, too, in formal designs such as damasks.

There is a great difference in color range in today's wallpapers and those of yesteryear. Advances have been made in color pigments that make them opaque, so that other colors will not show through. This makes for much truer colors.

Most wallpapers formerly used wheat flour as an adhesive. Now however, cellulose pastes are easier to mix and less likely to stain the pattern side of the paper.

Also, there are pastes which are insect-repellent and mildew-repellent, of special interest to those who live in tropical or semitropical areas.

Advances have been made in the field of hygienically treated wallpaper to make it bacteria and germ resistant. This is particularly important when wallpaper is used in hospitals, but is also important in the home, especially in the nursery and bathroom.

Lead Salt Deposits

In Stills Are Lethal

SEATTLE (AP) — Nary a revenooer was killed when the government raided 10 stills and made 25 arrests in the Seattle area last year. But some customers might not have been so lucky.

Louis S. Myers, director of the Internal Revenue Service's alcohol and tobacco tax unit, explained that lead deposits from solder used in building the stills could be lethal.

Such lead salt deposits, he said, are retained by the body and when the cumulated effect of repeated deposits reaches a certain level, the imbiber dies.

Crawl Space Carries Need Of Ventilation

More and more houses are being built with a crawl space beneath them rather than the usual full-sized basement. And most of them do not have adequate ventilation.

Builders appear to have the mistaken idea that because the area is shallow that it does not require as much airing as the full basement. On the contrary, the shallow area needs greater ventilation than the deep one, because the floor is closer to the wood joists and dampness is always heavier in confined spaces.

A damp and unhealthy condition in a crawl space or cellar always makes itself evident in the spring more than at any other time of the year. Immediate steps should be taken when this is discovered.

The crawl space which shows a damp and water-saturated atmosphere should have at least three, and preferably four, ventilators. These should be at least 8 inches by 16 inches square. They should be fitted with screens to keep out insects and small animals.

As the average small house has a concrete-block foundation, there is not much of a problem confronting the home owner. One block should be cut out of the foundation wall. It will not weaken or otherwise damage the structure.

Screens which will fit tightly should be made of 2-by-2 wood strips with screening covering one face of the frame. These are then inserted in the opening. In instances where there are already two ventilating openings only one or two additional inserts have to be made.

The benefits of adequate ventilation will be evident throughout the house, in plaster work, paint and all wood trim.

'Center Cut' Tips Given For Jigsaw

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I bought a jigsaw from my neighbor, who moved out of town recently. I am fascinated by the many curved projects I can make with this machine, but I need some advice. How do I cut designs out of the center of a piece of wood without cutting into the outside section?

Answer: Making inside cuts is not difficult, but requires extra care.

After you have drawn or traced the desired design on the wood, drill a hole into the wood at some point in the design. Make sure the hole is in the section that will be waste material after the cut is made. Insert the proper jigsaw blade in the hole and then, and then only, mount the blade on the saw.

Now proceed to make the cut along the design. When you are through, disconnect the blade and remove the wood from the table. Incidentally, in cutting to an outline, the most prominent parts of the pattern should be cut out first, followed by the more intricate curves.

Beginners sometimes make the mistake of trying to cut out the entire pattern in one continuous cut.

Wall Oven May Be Used As A Free-Standing Unit

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

A wall oven has great appeal for the homemaker. But often obstacles exist to its installation, mainly because it is structurally impossible to install in the area where it must be located.

The same oven may be used as a free-standing unit, however, by enclosing it in a cabinet. The cabinet may be constructed to the same specifications provided for the built-in installation.

Many materials are available for use in enclosing a wall oven which may rest on a counter top or in a free-standing cabinet.

Architect Tom Ernst was asked to suggest materials that could be used for framing an oven for countertop installation.

His ideas apply only to ovens, he says, "that are fully insulated and approved by the Underwriter's Laboratories." They can be installed near or within wooden or other combustible wall framing.

In these circumstances a wide selection of materials may be used, Ernst advised.

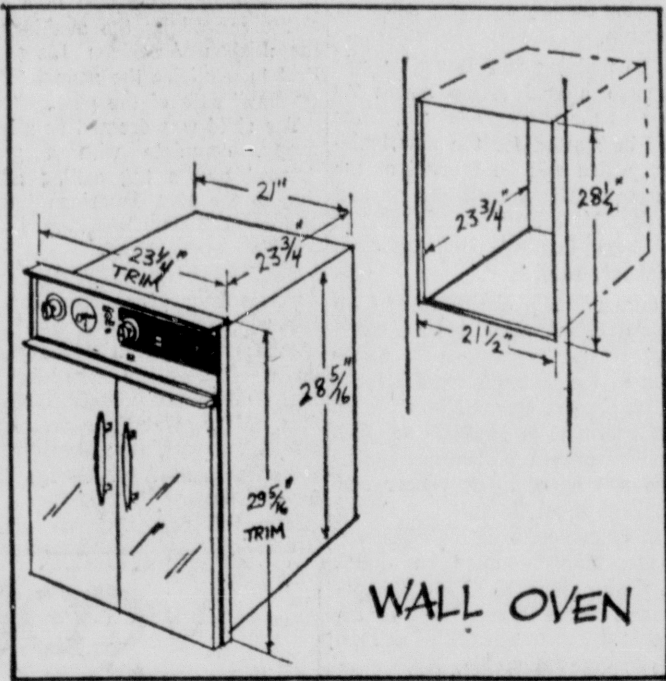

The wood group includes plywood, louvered panels and wood grillwork. The metal group includes perforated steel or aluminum, patterned sheet stock, expanded or stamped metal grillwork.

Ernst suggests that plywood could be handled in one of these ways:

1.—Painted to match the appliance color or to pick up a room color. If the unit is painted and there is a cabinet below it, the cabinet would look more decorative if it too is finished in the same material and painted the same color.

This may be particularly true in the case of a metal cabinet used below the new installation. A skilled home carpenter may build a cabinet to fit exactly below the oven, if a new cabinet is required.

2.—Hardwood veneer achieves

A WALL OVEN may be used as a free-standing unit encased in a cabinet, using the same specifications as for wall installation.

interesting effects. Planking could be applied in pine, maple or birch for a Traditional or Early American kitchen. Molding could be applied if one wanted a Provincial effect.

For a more contemporary look, an unusual veneer such as rosewood or ebony could be used. Walnut is a popular veneer for kitchen cabinet use, too.

3.—Plastic laminate offers a wide number of choices including bright white, solid colored and custom patterns in formica.

4.—Vinyl, cloth or paper wall covering in a pattern of choice. This gives one the opportunity of matching the oven cabinet to countertop, wall covering or fabric used in the rooms.

5.—Ceramic tile in small one-by-one-inch tiles; larger tiles, those available in designer series or the popular sculptured tiles, are ideal in some kitchen settings.

6.—Flooring tiles can be used for handsome traditional effects such as may be achieved with the new Delft patterns available. There are mosaic and moire patterns also which achieve unusual effects.

7.—Thin marble or slate tiles. After the material is selected, it would be well to discuss with an expert adhesives required for proper finishing of the unit.

It is good to remember too that the voltage available in your home should be determined before you purchase a wall oven. If adequate wiring isn't available, you may have to forego a wall oven installation.

7 Students Jailed At Bowling Green In Campus 'Riot'

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — A water fight between two fraternities erupted into a full-scale student demonstration at Bowling Green State University Sunday night. Some 500 students participated, hurling a tomato and other objects at the school president and blocking a U.S. highway for a time.

At least 50 police officers—from the state, city, university and two counties—were called in to quell the four-hour disturbance. Seven male students were arrested and lodged in city jail.

The demonstrators defied a plea from university president Ralph McDonald to disperse. They hurled a tomato, paper containers of soda pop and pieces of ripped-up picket fences in his direction but he is believed to have escaped the barrage.

A university spokesman denied initial reports that the demonstration started over the firing of a fraternity house mother. But the spokesman admitted that this was the subject of questions asked McDonald when he appeared before the students.

Other questions, he said, concerned student demands for "freedom in drinking." School rules bar students from drinking beer, even off campus.

The unruly students marched onto U.S. 6 and halted traffic for a period. They were dispersed by state highway patrolmen who rushed in from four posts.

The fraternity mother who reportedly was fired over the weekend was Mrs. Florence Tatham of Alpha Tau Omega. University officials said she failed to report her advance knowledge that a tear gas bomb was to be exploded in

Canal Project Support Seen

Additional support for a projected Lake Erie - Ohio River Waterway between Ashtabula and Rochester, Pa., is expected soon from the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

Plans for the project, which date back to the late 1930's, have been revived for inclusion in President Kennedy's program to help bring about a business recovery.

The rivers and harbors group, comprised of waterway and conservation experts from throughout the nation, will hold its 48th annual meeting May 24-27 at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington.

The affair will bring together many of the country's top experts on waterway and conservation projects, as well as many congressional leaders. It will act on the Lake Erie - Ohio River project at that time.

The canal is aimed at providing a direct water link between the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Great Lakes navigation system. This would give the Youngstown district and the Beaver Valley a big lift in its fight for industrial rehabilitation.

2 Motorists Cited In County Crashes

Two drivers were cited in two weekend accidents in the area, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today. There were no injuries in either mishap.

Richard Price, 32, of Darlington, was cited on a charge of failing to obey a traffic light after his car rammed broadside into the auto of Nancy Prideham, 31, of Columbiana R. D. 1 Sunday at 7 p.m.

The mishap occurred at the junction of Routes 14 and 46 in Columbiana. Price went through a red traffic light and struck the woman's auto, the patrol said.

In another mishap Sunday at 11:25 a.m. on Route 30, a short distance south of Lisbon, Ronald Parrack, 23, of Elyria was cited on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way.

Parrack made a left turn in front of another car operated by Mary Ondik, 22, of Toronto, who was northbound. Parrack was traveling south. The collision resulted in minor damage.

Bandit, 53, Killed As Car Hits Home In Poland Crash

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A man fleeing police after a holdup here was killed when his car left the road and slammed into a residence in nearby Poland. He was Haywood Reed, 53, of Youngstown.

The force of the crash Saturday night knocked Mrs. William Godward across the kitchen of the home on the Poland-Youngstown Road.

Youngstown detective Michael Demain said he had seen a masked man in an Isaly store holding up Manager Nick Uurjevich. De-main was waiting outside the store but the gunman escaped in an exchange of gunfire.

Several more shots were fired as police gave chase. The stolen car Reed was using missed a curve and hit the house. Police said the $70 taken in the holdup was found on Reed.

Garden Club's Anniversary Observed At Dinner Event

The 17th anniversary of the East Liverpool Garden Club was celebrated Thursday evening with a covered dinner at the home of Mrs. Leo Lawrence of Midway Ln. Charter members present included Mrs. Alfred Boulton, Mrs. Josie Coleman, Mrs. Harold Gallimore, Mrs. Clarence Green, Mrs. John Keller, Miss Roxie McElroy and Mrs. George White.

A scheme of green and yellow—the club's colors—was used in the table decorations. An arrangement of jonquils, forsythia and pussy willows in a yellow container formed the centerpiece and also a large birthday cake decorated by Mrs. Wayne Dorsey, president. Yellow tapers completed the setting.

The theme was "Our Birthday—Let's Have Fun." Mrs. Alfred Boulton and Mrs. John Keller were in charge of the program.

Entertainment included a comedy skit with orchestra. Mrs. Robert Burch, Mrs. Dorsey, Mrs. Donald E. Wolfe and Mrs. Iva Giesler were participants.

Several members also gave a talent skit.

Business was conducted by the president and Mrs. Wolfe reported that the City Federation's spring tea will be held at the Mary Paterson Memorial and the art show at the Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Green reported on the recent Cleveland Home and Flower show.

It was reported the Garden Forum meeting will be held April 12 at Youngstown and the regional meeting at Boardman April 26.

Workshop dates were announced as April 5 and 19 at the home of Mrs. Burch of Louisiana Ave., Chester, with afternoon sessions.

Mrs. Charles Dorsey, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced a rummage sale will be held the first week of May.

at the Odd Fellows Hall in East End.

Several members planned to attend the Phipps Conservatory spring show in Pittsburgh Saturday. It is being held through April 16.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Green and Mrs. White, members of the social committee.

The next meeting is April 28 at the home of Mrs. Frank Richmond, 526 Louisiana Ave., Chester.

No Offers Filed On School Ground

No one appeared to offer a bid at a public sale set Saturday by the Wellsville Board of Education to sell a plot of ground on Danbury Ave. between 18th and 19th Sts.

Earl Bake, board president, said one man appeared at the meeting which was publicly advertised, but he only made some inquiries and did not make any cash offer.

One offer was made, but it was by telephone and could not be considered because law requires that all bidding be at a public meeting.

The board plans to sell a plot consisting of 226 feet facing on Danbury and extending to within 10 feet of the Nicholson Stadium fence on a slightly irregular line.

Bake said the board will decide at the next meeting April 10 on what action to take. If the property is advertised once more and no bids are received, the board then can enter into private negotiations with prospective buyers.

The board decided to sell the plot, which is not used for school purposes, after some inquiries had been made by individuals who expressed interest in constructing homes in the area.

A great drought in the Colorado Wetherill Mesa put an end to farming and hunting activities of the Pueblo Indians who were cliff dwellers in that region.

Church Clears Property Sale

A proposal to sell the present property of the Second Church of Christ and build a new church was approved at a congregational meeting Sunday morning following worship.

The building now is up for sale through a real estate agent. As soon as the property is sold, plans will be started for the new building, which will be erected at the corner of Martin and Etruria Sts. Under present plans, the project will begin this fall, John Eggleton, minister, said.

James Smith, chairman of the Church Board, conducted the meeting. Wayne Berresford is chairman of the building committee.

The present church, which is of white brick, is located at 1302 Pennsylvania Ave. The new structure will be of brick veneer and will cost about $55,000.

The minister, a native of Chesapeake, Ohio, assumed his duties as pastor June 28, 1959. He succeeded John Pommert, who accepted a call to the Christian Church at Paintsville, Ky.

The present membership is about 175.

A dedication program for a hand-made communion table, a pulpit stand and chair also was held during the morning service.

The furniture was donated by the Busy Fingers Sewing Circle. Mrs. Ann Plumley was chairman of the furniture project.

Girl Killed, 4 Injured When Train Rams Auto

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A six-year-old girl was killed and four other children injured today when the Ohio State Limited struck the car in which their mother was taking them to school.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Sturgill of nearby Chautauqua, was reported injured.

Eileen Sturgill, 6, was dead on arrival at Middletown Hospital. There was no immediate word on the condition of Mrs. Sturgill and David, 14, Rosemary, 12, Beverly, 8, and Johnny 5.

The accident occurred at the Chautauqua Road crossing of the New York Central Railroad near Carlisle. The crossing has no flasher lights which have been requested in vain by numerous local groups for several years.

U.N. Troops Ordered 'Be Friendly' In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United Nations announced two moves today to help restore peace in the Congo — a "get friendly with the Congolese" order to U.N. troops and the setting up of a neutral zone along the Ruanda-Urundi border.

The neutral zone will run between the twin towns of Goma in the Congo's Kivu Province and Kisenyi in the Belgian trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

It was at this powderkeg point that Belgian and Congolese troops clashed earlier in the year.

The U.N. Military Commander, Gen. Sean McKeown, issued the "get friendly" order to his troops.

Sentence Suspended In Shoplifting Charge

A Pittsburgh man escaped a 10-day jail term for shoplifting today in Municipal Court by agreeing to leave town.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff had entered a not guilty plea for the defendant on the charge filed by Patrolman Paul Lema, who testified he was shopping Saturday and saw Alexander Norris, 62, start to leave McCrory's 5 & 10 with four pairs of socks valued at $2.

Norris, who admitted he had been drinking, told the judge he couldn't recall being in the store. When the Pittsburgher said it would take him 30 minutes to leave town, Judge Chertoff snapped: "That's too long."

Political Bombings Hit 2 Cities In North Italy

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Powerful dynamite blasts shook this capital of the Italian South Tyrol and the nearby city of Merano before dawn today.

The explosions appeared to be the work of pro-Austrian extremist groups seeking local autonomy.

The blasts damaged two apartment buildings under construction by the Italian government. They were the largest and most damaging of a sporadic series of bombings.

No one was injured.

20 Killed As Burmese Rebels Blow Up Train

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Rebels from the Karen tribes blew up the Mandalay-Rangoon express Sunday and more than 20 persons were feared killed.

The train hit three land mines on the tracks 100 miles north of Rangoon.

The band of 100 rebels shot all men in uniform on the train and those suspected of being government employees, ransacked the train, robbed the passengers and fled, taking about 60 passengers as hostages.

'Miss Poppy' Title Given To Child, 6, At Lisbon Contest

Linda McCamon, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCamon of Lisbon, won the title "Miss Poppy" Saturday afternoon in a contest arranged by the auxiliary of the Lisbon American Legion Post to publicize the annual "Poppy Day" sale of the post.

The child was dressed as a huge poppy, complete with a green "stem" and a tag calling attention to the 1961 American Legion Memorial Poppy sale. A crowd watched the judging.

Thirteen youngsters participated. Judges were Mrs. Jane Gill of Minerva, state treasurer of the auxiliary; Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin of Columbiana, president of the Columbiana County Council; Mrs. Mary Wetzel, representing the Lisbon auxiliary; Mayor Dean Stockman and Atty. George Laferty.

Mrs. Gill presented the winner with a bouquet of poppies with cascading satin streamers. The child will be featured in several "poppy sale" affairs and will be given a trip to Sandusky to see the artificial flowers made by veterans.

Linda Hempstead, Diane Lederle and Trudi Calvin served as pages. They wore white dresses decorated with bands of poppies and red pillbox hats.

Mrs. Jack Stockman, chairman of the poppy sales, welcomed guests and contestants. She will be assisted in the sale by Mrs. Robert Gardner. Lunch was served.

Portsmouth, Ayersville, Cincinnati Rule As Cage Centers

AA Champs Gain First In 30 Years

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Home from the basketball wars today were Portsmouth's Trojans and the Ayersville Pilots—all loaded with laurels.

In the post-tournament calm after the 39th state high school cage classic, a summing up disclosed that:

Portsmouth, repeating as Class AA champion after a 30-year interim, placed All-Ohio Mike Haley and C. A. Hartley on the first all-tournament team and Rudy Shively on the second; Haley as the most valuable player, and Coach George Heller as coach of the North All-Stars for the June 17 Rebel-Yankee game at Cuyahoga Falls.

Ayersville, back on the Class A throne after first winning in 1957, had All-Ohio Danny Neff as the outstanding player, Neff and Virgil Linebrink on the all-tournament team, Neff as the tournament's leading scorer with 42, the state's only unbeaten record (30-0), top ranking in the final Associated Press poll, and "Coach of the Year" in Lee Himmeger.

Portsmouth came from behind to the all-tournament 11-man climbers 50-44, Haley getting the pertinent points with 1:17 to go. Urbana, last of the unbeaten teams in the 399-school Class AA division, saw its string snapped at 25.

Ayersville, also behind in the fading minutes, used a field goal by Neff to go ahead of Liberty Union of Trumbull County, 39-38 with 1:15 to play for a 40-38 conquest of the Leopards who went in with a 27-1 record. Neff got seven of Ayersville's 10 points in the final quarter after getting five

Defense Seen Key To Bearcats' Win

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Great defense. Near-perfect ball control. Add a dash of enormous courage and you have the explanation for the Cincinnati Bearcats' 70-65 overtime victory over favored Ohio State in the NCAA basketball championship game Saturday night.

Ranked No. 1 nationally, riding a 32-game victory streak and seeking its second straight championship, Ohio State went into the fray a 7-point favorite, but the Buckeyes must have failed to reckon with the salty Cincinnati defenses.

"We concede them nothing, absolutely nothing," Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker had said of the Bearcats 24 hours earlier. "Our kids play good defense. We have just as good a chance as they have."

Despite an aggressive, tantalizing man-for-man defense with shifting assignments, the Bearcats were guilty of only 13 fouls. Paul Hogue, 6-foot-9, 235-pound junior from Knoxville, Tenn., aided at times by Tom Thacker, did a neat job tying up All-America Jerry Lucas, who was held to only 9 points in the last half and the overtime period.

Lucas scored 18 points the first half, however, for a game high of 27.

Cincinnati was in front much of the time, although Ohio State led 39-38 at the half. Carl Bouldin, Cincinnati senior, hit five of six shots from the field in the opening minutes of the second half and the warning sign was up for the Buckeyes.

Thacker and Tony Yates, a pair of classy sophomores, and veteran Bob Wiesenbahn led a late second-half spree that had Cincinnati ahead 61-59 until the Bucks' Bob Knight sent it into overtime with a driving basket with 1:41 left.

Cincinnati failed to end it in regulation time when Thacker missed from the side with two seconds left after the Bearcats had controlled the ball a minute and 39 seconds.

Hogue, normally a poor man at the free throw line, made two gratis tosses opening the overtime and the Bearcats weren't caught again.

The 10,000 fans who jammed Municipal Auditorium for the second straight night were treated to an equivalent of three and a quarter games as the St. Joseph's (Pa.) College Hawks beat Utah 127-120 in four overtimes for third place.

A field goal by William Hoy, St. Joseph's sophomore, in the Utah basket opening the first overtime session only added spice to the program. Hoy, who described it as a "grade school trick," had a big hand in St. Joseph's eventual victory. Jack Egan threw in 42 points for St. Joseph's. Bill McGill popped in 34 for Utah.

Patterson's Next Foe May Be English Boxer

GOTEBURG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson's adviser said today that heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's next defense of his title would be against Henry Cooper of England.

"Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, is flying to London next week to negotiate for the bout," said Edwin Ahlquist.

Ahlquist arrived here Sunday night from New York. One of his main hopes, he said, would be to arrange a Johansson-Sonny Liston heavyweight bout here on Sept. 14.

Grant's Latest Pitching Performance Impressive

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Jim (Mudcat) Grant, fun-loving and carefree in the past, is all business out on the mound this spring. And he's turned in the best pitching of any Cleveland hurler.

Grant, 24-year-old right-hander who has been on the brink of stardom for three years, has pitched 17 innings and permitted only four earned runs.

He hurled five-hit ball for six innings against Boston Sunday as the Indians snapped a four-game losing spell with a 9-3 decision at Tucson. Grant allowed only one earned run.

More good news in the pitching department came from Gary Bell, who turned in his third straight creditable job. Bell, hampered last season by a sore shoulder, worked three innings and blanked the Red Sox on one hit.

The Indians banked out a dozen hits, with Tito Francona, Woodie Held, Walter Bond and Bubba Phillips collecting two each.

Grant struck out seven batters as he pitched six innings for the second time in five days.

Bell hasn't given up an earned run in nine innings and he threw harder Sunday than at any time this spring, giving indications his arm trouble may be a thing of the past.

Meanwhile, Bond is repeating his sensational hitting of last spring. With Jim Piersall benched by aching ribs, Bond has whacked the ball at a .467 clip on seven hits in 15 trips.

Cleveland made its first spring invasion of California today by coming to this resort city to play the Los Angeles Angels.

Wheeling, Huntington Stars Lead 1961 All-State Squad

BLUEFIELD — Dick Tomlinson of Wheeling is the only repeater and Ricky Ray of Huntington the top vote-getter on this year's 25th annual All-State High School Basketball Team.

The composite mythical honor squad, captained by Ray, is drawn from the divisional all-state teams announced over the weekend. Tomlinson, runnerup in the voting, an Ray are the most sought after college prospects in the state.

Others on the all-senior first team are forwards Dick LeJeune of Clarksburg W.I., Larry Tinscher of East Bank and Bill Treacy of Huntington St. Joe; center Carter Castilow of New Martinsville, and guards Kyle Phipps of Beckley and Jim Hawkins of South Charleston.

Castilow and Treacy are the only two who didn't play for Class AAA schools this season.

Ray, Castilow and Treacy led their teams to the respective state, Class AAA, AA and Catholic championships.

The second team:

Forwards Walt Smittle of Padon City (Capt.), Louis Paterno of Charleston Catholic and Fred Suder of Buckhannon; centers Ritchie Simmons of Pineville, and Mel Jennings of Huntington; guards Mike Chambers of Ravenswood, Bill Francis of Triadelphia and Clarence Darcus of Barrackville.

The third team:

Forwards Gary Marvin of Wheeling, Tim Muth of Huntington St. Joe, and Red McCauley of Tygarts Valley; centers George Hicks of Charleston and Ronnie Kidd of South Charleston; guards Mickey McDade of Charleston Catholic, John Swann of White Sulphur Springs and Mike Stumpo of Clarksburg Notre Dame.

Managing Editor Stubby Currence of the Bluefield Daily Telegraph, the all-state chairman, said injuries, which prevented them from playing a full season, knocked out such fine performers as Bane Sarrett of Beckley and Jerry Armentrout of Elkins from consideration for the honor team.

Paret Defends Welter Title

By The Associated Press
Welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret, a loser in his last fight, makes the second defense of his crown Saturday night as the 7-5 choice over young Emile Griffith.

The 24-year-old champion from Cuba and the 22-year-old challenger from New York via the Virgin Islands collide in a 15-round television (ABC TV, 10 p.m. EST) at Convention Hall in Miami Beach, Fla.

Paret was outpointed by hustling Gaspar Ortega of Mexico in a nontitle 10-rounder at Los Angeles Feb. 25.

The Cuban won the title from Don Jordan on a 15-round decision at Las Vegas last May 27. He edged Argentina's Federico

COMET THE BETTER COMPACT CAR
CELEBRATES ITS FIRST BIRTHDAY

PRICED WITH OR BELOW THE COMPACTS OF OTHER MAKERS

HIGH RESALE VALUE $160 TO $511 MORE THAN OTHER COMPACTS

198,000 PROUD OWNERS IN JUST ONE YEAR

It's the first family-size compact. Longer wheelbase—up to 7.5' longer than other compacts—means more Comet room, not only in comfort-for-six seating but in over 28 cu. ft. of trunk space.

Comet's big-car ride is the comfort difference. Extra length also contributes to Comet's road-leveling ride. The refined new suspension gives Comet a better ride than many standard cars. And Comet handles almost as easily as a tricycle.

Talk about economy and you're talking Comet. To save on gas, choose either of Comet's two thrifty engines. You change Comet oil only every 4,000 miles, get better tire mileage, save on license and insurance. And Comet's Super-Enamel finish never needs waxing!

Lasting quality, even where it doesn't show. Comet is quality, inside and out. Unit-built to keep quiet, stay sturdy and durable. Comet also has rustproofed vital underbody parts, thorough soundproofing and an aluminized muffler.

Both two- and four-door sedans and wagons. Take your pick from sedans or wagons. With cargo space you'd expect from larger-size wagons (up to 30% more space behind the front seat than most other compacts) and a convenient roll-down rear window for easier loading, Comet offers you the better compact wagon!

Lowest net cost of ownership. From one model year to the next, Comet's net cost of ownership (initial cost less resale value) is the lowest of all six-passenger compacts. Latest Automotive Market Reports of used car auction prices for 1960 models show that Comet is worth from $160 to $511 more than the others. After adjustment for differences in manufacturers' suggested new car retail prices, Comet's net cost of ownership ranges from $57 to $543 less than the other compacts.

These are a few of the reasons 198,000 proud owners congratulate Comet... and themselves... on Comet's first birthday this March. And also they're reasons why you should see Comet... the value-packed compact... at your Mercury-Comet dealer.

Friars' Nip St. Louis, 62-59

Providence Star Chosen MVP In NIT Tournament

By HUGH FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Vinnie Ernst, a scrappy sophomore from Providence College, and Jack Foley, a sharpshooting Holy Cross junior, today were named the outstanding players of a 1961 National Invitation Basketball tournament and led the tourney's all-star team selected by The Associated Press.
Ernst, a fiery competitor who took charge of the Providence team and led it to a stirring 62-59 victory over St. Louis in the final game Saturday, was selected as the most valuable player in the tournament.
The award was earned as much by his "take charge" qualities of leadership as his individual contributions to the Friars' triumphs over Holy Cross in the semifinals and over St. Louis in the final.
Foley, whose fall-away jump shots looked almost unstoppable, scored 120 points in four games, falling just four short of the NIT record set by Maurice Stokes of St. Francis (Pa.) in 1955. He tossed in 35 Saturday as Holy Cross whipped lethargic Dayton 85-76 to take third place.
Foley, in addition to being high scorer, was the top rebounder for his team, grabbing 17 in the over-

Duren Handed Fine By Houk; Trade Is Seen

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees denied today that he was placing pitcher Ryne Duren on the trading block for breaking training rules.
But he also left the door open to trade the bespectacled hurler.
The news leaked out Sunday — by Duren himself, no less — that Duren had been hit with a $250 fine for "straying off the reservation" here two weeks ago.
There were several versions of what actually happened, but neither Houk nor Duren was talking. A Yank official said the reason on-record for the fine was "breaking training and coming in after curfew."
"Duren definitely is not on the trading block because of the incident," said Houk. "But by the same token, there is no denying that we are trying to make trades."
"With the exception of a few players, we might trade anyone on the club if we think it will help the Yanks."

Podres Becomes 2nd Hurler To Go Route; Dodgers Cop Sixth Straight

By MIKE RATHET, Associated Press Sports Writer
Southpaw Johnny Podres, sore-backed hurler who has had the tools but never the stamina needed to win 20 games has brought the Los Angeles Dodgers winning streak to six with the second route-going performance of the exhibition season.
Showing no signs of the back trouble that has plagued him throughout a standout major league career, the 28-year-old left hander flashed mid-season form Sunday as he went all the way in a five-hit 2-0 victory over Baltimore.
Podres, who never has won more than 14 games a season in his eight years with the Dodgers, struck out seven and walked four. He also drove in the only runs against the Orioles with a sharp single to center in the second inning.
The batters grabbed the spotlight for San Francisco and Minnesota. The Giants rapped the Chicago Cubs 15-10 with a 19-hit outburst that included five homers, while the Twins belted Kansas City 18-4 on a two-homer, 18-hit attack.
In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Pittsburgh 2-1, Philadelphia nipped St. Louis, 5-3, New York defeated Cincinnati 6-2, Milwaukee whipped Detroit 7-4, Cleveland beat Boston 9-3, Washington bopped the Braves 3-1, and the Los Angeles Angels topped San Diego of the Pacific Coast League.
Podres, joining Cub rookie Jack Curtis as the only pitchers to go the distance so far this season, allowed only one extra base hit — a double by Gus Triandos. The Dodgers were checked on six hits by Steve Barber and rookie John Papa.
Rookie catcher Tom Haller powered the Giants attack with two homers, one a grand slam job in the first inning. Orlando Cepeda, Willie Mays and pitcher Jack Sanford also connected for San Francisco, while Al Heist and Jerry Kindall countered for the Cubs.
Four unearned runs in the first and a six-run rally in the sixth gave the Twins their victory over the A's. Bob Allison drove in three runs for Minnesota with a homer and two singles, and Jose Valdivielso also hit for the distance.
Pinch hitter Earl Torgeson stroked a two-run single in the eighth to wrap it up for the White Sox, and became the club's leading RBI man with nine. The Pirates had scored in the first on singles by Dick Schofield and Bob Skinner and an infield out. The Phils took advantage of two St. Louis errors and a misjudged fly ball, scoring all their runs in the fifth off Bob Miller. A two-run homer by rookie Leroy Thomas and the nine-hit pitching of Ralph Terry and Danny McDevitt gave the Yankees the edge over the Reds.
Roy McMillan and Wes Covington homered as the Braves downed the Tigers, despite Al Kaline's first roundtripper and a single, double and homer by Jake Wood. Eight runs in the first three innings clinched it for the Indians as Jim Grant limited the Red Sox to one run in six innings.
Joe McLain pitched seven-hit ball in a seven-inning stint against the Braves B squad, while Gene Woodling's two-run double in the third gave the Senators all the runs they needed. Julio Becquer's single in the seventh drove in the tie-breaker for the Angels, who got six-hit pitching from Ted Bowsfield and Jerry Casale.

First Church of Nazarene edged a stubborn Orchard Grove five, 20-15. Willis with seven points paced the winners. Bill Cunningham netted nine for Orchard Grove.

First Methodist led by Scott's seven points topped Wellsville Central Methodist, 18-12. Call tossed in five for Wellsville.

Grace United Presbyterian fought off Chester Christian for a 26-20 win. Talbott collected 12 for the winners and Blankenship's 10 markers topped the Chester five.

St. Stephens blasted Chester Nazarene 29-9 with R. Smith dropping in 14 points. Midcap's seven markers paced Chester.

Boyce Methodist had an easy time topping First United Presbyterian, 36-13. Null was high scorer of the evening with 20 points. Mike McVay collected six for the losers.

Chester Methodist registered a 17-8 win over Calvary Methodist. Forsythe and Davis shared honors with six each while Hanselman had four points in a losing cause. Maltiarich hooped 13 points to pace Second Presbyterian to a 24-6 over St. John's Lutheran.

Bill Sharman Paces Celtics Into Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Sharman, who almost saw his career ended in midseason, today had literally shot the Boston Celtics into the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The defending champion Celtics defeated Syracuse 123-101 Sunday and wrapped up the best-of-seven Eastern Division series, 4-1.

With the game still hanging in the balance, Sharman and fireman-Frank Ramsey took charge. In the final three minutes of the third period they tallied 11 points between them for an 88-83 lead after Sam Jones' jumper broke a 73-73 tie, the 16th deadlock of the contest.

In less than 12 minutes, Sharman had registered 21 of his 27 points.

The former Southern California ace, now in his 11th NBA season, missed five weeks' play in December-January due to a muscle tear in his left leg.

Favored St. Louis rallied to deadlock the Western Division series with Los Angeles at two games each with a 118-117 triumph Saturday night. They meet in St. Louis tonight.

Barons Finish Third In AHL Standings

By The Associated Press
The Cleveland Barons waited until the final weekend of the long American Hockey League season to capture third place in the standings. And when they have time to think about it today, maybe they'll wish they hadn't.
By barely finishing third ahead of Buffalo, the Barons earned the doubtful privilege of facing the champion Springfield Indians in the first round of the playoffs starting Wednesday. Hershey meets Buffalo in the second vs. fourth playoff series.

Air Force Museum Has Unusual Exhibit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An exhibit in the Air Force Museum at Wright-Patterson Base features knives made from bed slats, hand-carved guns, wire cutters devised from ice skate blades, and other homemade weapons and tools.
All were made by American airmen held in German prison camps during World War II. The display is a special interest of Royal D. Frey, museum reference and research chief, who was one of the American pilots shot down during the war.

Murtaugh Confident

Pirates Are Determined To Repeat In '61 Season

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT MEYERS, Fla. (AP) — Danny Murtaugh turned to welcome the Pittsburgh camp visitor and remarked dryly: "Do the Yankees still think they won the World Series?"
Don Hoak, the fiery third baseman overheard the remark.

"I understand they've been crying all winter that the better team lost the series," he said. "Well, you can tell them for me they're not only the worst World Series team I ever saw but the poorest sports ... We'd have won it in four straight if it weren't for injuries ...
"If they win the pennant again this year, we'll beat 'em again. I don't know about them but we'll win again. You can bank on that."

Murtaugh, who earned the manager of the year award by leading the Pirates to their first flag in 33 years, nodded in agreement. "The fellows are determined to win it again," he said. "They're out to prove they're no one-shot champs."

Last spring, after the Pirates' fourth place finish in 1959, Murtaugh pointed out that too many players had bad seasons at the same time and said it couldn't possibly happen two years in succession. So it was pointed out to Murtaugh that nearly all of the Pirates enjoyed good seasons in 1960 and was it reasonable to expect them to repeat?
"I don't agree that all had outstanding seasons," he said. "I would say only Dick Groat had a better than normal year ... He never hit as high as .325 before. On the other hand, Bob Skinner, normally a .325 to .330 hitter, batted only .273. Look at the rest, Hoak, Bob Clemente, Bill Virdon, Bill Mazeroski, Smoky Burgess, Hal Smith ... All hit about as expected. None of them had an exceptional year. Not one hit as high as .300. I think all of them are capable of doing better. Dick Stuart hit 23 homers and drove in 83 runs playing part time. He should do better if he gets to play consistently."

The team will be virtually the same that won the 1960 flag by seven games. The only openings may be on the pitching staff and on the bench. Bobby Shantz, the little left-hander acquired in a trade with Washington, will be used strictly in relief.
Murtaugh has four solid starters in Vern Law (20-9), Bob Friend (18-12), Vinegar Bend Mizell (14-8) and Harvey Haddix (11-10). He is trying to find a fifth starter among Tom Cheney, Jim Umbricht, Joe Gibbon, Red Witt and Curt Raydon. The last two have been bothered by sore arms. The best of the pitching recruits has been a 6-foot-6, 21-year-old right-hander named Tom Parsons, who was 12-7 at Salt Lake City last year.

Man-Into-Space Shot To Be 'Live'

Final plans are shaping up for television to cover the first American man-into-space shot. It likely will be the most fantastic spectacular ever put on our TV screens — and "live," too.

An interview with NBC's Roy Neal reveals the following salient facts: The odds are good that the "manned ballistic launch" will take place sometime next month from Cape Canaveral. It will come on a weekday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 1:25 p.m. Television coverage will last from 2 1/2 to 3 hours.

In a straw-draw, NBC was elected to produce the pool telecast for all three major networks. Neal is in charge of 22 cameras, 125 TV personnel and one of the biggest coordinating headaches he's ever had to tackle.

PENDING the results of current meetings with National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials, here in essence is what Neal and his crew hope to bring TV viewers:

TV cameras at Cape Canaveral's Hangar F will show our astronaut being fitted into his pressure suit. From there we will follow him as he is driven five miles to Launch Pad No. 5.

More cameras (operated remotely) will show him being loaded into the Mercury space capsule. The only place where the NASA refused TV cameras was in the control blockhouse where the Mercury is fired.

"THE PREPARATION to insure safety is fantastic," says Neal. "It was felt that if just one member of the control team should be aware of a TV camera, and look up for just a split second, it might be the 'wrong second.'"

Neal also will have cameras on a 120-foot gantry at Thor Pad 17B. If the shot should fail in some way, the astronaut's capsule will be released from the missile and jettisoned into the ocean. Neal's cameras on the 17-B gantry could pick up the scene.

With a successful launch, Mercury will soar 115 miles up, then land 250 miles down range, where the astronaut will be fished out of the water and brought aboard ship.

This is too far out for "live" TV cameras, but Neal will have film cameras aboard and hopes to have the "landing" film on the air 1 1/2 hours later.

FROM THE TIME of the launching until the astronaut lands down range will be a scant 18 minutes, and this will be the only time that TV won't have "live" coverage of the actual event.

At no point in the program, however, will the astronaut be allowed to talk to TV interviewers or press. After landing, he is taken to the NASA's large medical installation at Grand Bahama Island, where he probably will spend three or four days. After that he will be taken to Washington for one press conference.

Neal says he hopes to have two or three weeks' advance notice on the launch date but that the networks will not be permitted to announce it until the night before.

Each network is pre-taping much of the preparation going in to the Project Mercury Man-into-Space event and, depending upon the hour, will begin telecasting this tape until the "live" pool cameras are allowed to pick up the countdown action.

WHEN THAT HAPPENS, Neal and his director, Jim Kittell, will be at the press site 8,000 feet from Pad No. 4, ensconced in two 35-foot trailers which constitute the TV switching center. From here he will control the remote cameras just 2,700 feet from the launch.

If the astronaut shot comes off, NASA is talking about putting him into orbit late this year. That will mean Neal and his TV cohorts can begin planning their logistics all over again.

By that time, too, it is possible that the satellite will carry a TV camera, which the networks would be allowed to tie into, bringing us pictures of a man as he hurtles around the earth.

It's going to be awfully tough for either Ed Sullivan or Jack Parr to top that!

'Copter Picks 3 From Boat At Zanesville

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A helicopter, almost sucked into the water by a downdraft, hovered low over a stranded pontoon boat and plucked three children to safety from the Muskingum River Sunday.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Knussman of Zanesville, were later rescued when firemen managed to float a line to the raft-like boat and pull them to shore.

The dramatic, three-hour ordeal had an anticlimax. Six Crooksville civil defense workers also became stranded in the same spot on the river for more than four hours in an amphibious duck vehicle. They, too, were hauled near enough to shore to get them out.

The Knussmans—he's 37 and his wife, Betty, 30—had gone to a spot on the river, about 10 miles north of here, to fish. Their houseboat-like craft was only a few feet from Ellis Dam when the outboard motor coked out. A strong current in the rain-swollen river swept the boat to the side of the dam and held it fast.

The current kept other boats from getting near enough to the Knussmans to throw them a line. At this point, two Ohio National Guard helicopters were dispatched from Columbus help.

While one 'copter stood by, the other hovered over the stranded boat and one by one plucked each of the children and brought them to dry land.

On the first attempt, as fisherman Donald Goodyear of Zanesville hung precariously on a rope suspended from the whirlybird, the 'copter was hit by a downdraft that almost sucked it into the river.

But Goodyear managed to grab the youngest child, Kevin, 3, and as he held the boy with one hand and the rope with the other, both were carried to shore by the helicopter. The other two children, Pamela, 6, and Gregg, 7, were taken bodily into the aircraft.

Firemen finally floated a line to the parents, still stranded near the middle of the river, at least 200 feet wide at that point. The Knussmanns lashed the line to their craft and firemen halted it alongside a concrete ledge.

Firemen lowered a long ladder from the ledge and the Knussmanns ascended to safety.

Knussmann, an assistant plant manager at the Hazel-Atlas division of Continental Can Co., told how he had been planning to buy an airplane but purchased the boat instead because he thought it was safer.

The father also related that his children, once ashore, asked if they could go fishing again. Knussmann said he assured them they would.

Police Quell Riot Of College Youths At Florida Beach

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Police from six surrounding communities reinforced local authorities in putting down a riot by 3,500 vacationing college students, unhappy at being denied access to their favorite spot for romancing, an unlighted beach north of here.

The riot broke out Sunday night on busy U. S. A1A, flanked on one side by a warm, sandy beach and the Atlantic Ocean and on the other by a row of beer taverns where the students cool off between sun bathing sessions.

As resentment grew over closing of the unlighted beach, students began halting traffic by lying in front of cars. Police arrived and ordered the students to disperse, but were met with a volley of stones, beer cans and bottles.

The riot began to weaken as high pressure fire hoses were trained on front lines of the students and officers threw apparent trouble makers into paddy wagons. About 50 students were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and another 25 were injured by flying glass from broken beer bottles.

THE REVIEW

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I give my hair a dry shampoo?

A. One effective manner of doing this is to beat the whites of two eggs as stiff as possible, then take this, a handful at a time, and rub it well into the scalp with a light, circular movement. Dry the hair for about 20 minutes, then brush it out thoroughly.

Q. How can I make homemade glue or paste of leftover wallpaper paste last indefinitely?

A. By adding a small amount of vinegar — about two ounces to the quart — to these adhesives, you will insure their keeping for a long time.

Q. How can I clean an iron that has become coated with a film of starch?

A. By running it over a sheet of fine sandpaper.

Q. What is a good antidote for body perspiration odor?

A. Frequent bathing is in order for the person afflicted with this. It's a good idea to bathe in warm water, to which has been added two tablespoonfuls of compound spirits of ammonia—which will leave the skin clean and fresh.

Q. How can I improve my own "magnetic" screwdriver for starting screws in tight, hard-to-get-at places?

A. Place a piece of cellophane tape over the end of the screwdriver blade and force the screwdriver into the slot in the head of the screw.

Q. How can I prevent metal tops of salt shakers from corroding?

A. By covering them on the inside with melted paraffin. While the paraffin is cooling, open the holes with a pin or toothpick.

Smell Puzzled Some, Not Alcohol Agents

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The smell from a house in a residential section puzzled some folks but it didn't fool the trained noses of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division agents.

They found the house vacant except for the basement, which contained a 150-gallon still fired by gas routed around the meter and twenty 50-gallon fermenter barrels. The absent bootleggers had been pouring the mash down drains into the city sewers but the smell was more difficult to handle.

Columbia, South America, borders on the Isthmus of Panama.

Woman Gets Her Stand Back After 25 Years

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Twenty-five years ago Mrs. Lester Anderson of Des Moines baked a cake for a friend and presented it on a handsome crystal cake stand. Then she forgot about the stand.

Recently she chanced to see a collection of antique glassware and recalled her cake stand. She checked with the friend and found that the stand had been in a china closet, untouched, for the 25 years. Now Mrs. Anderson has the stand back.

Fire Trucks Of Today Come In Many Colors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-five years ago most fire trucks were red but the trend recently has been to varied colors so that emergency vehicles will stand out from the many red trucks on the street, says a Seagrave Corp. engineer.

W. P. Brenning says fire trucks now come in shades of white, yellow, gray, green, brown, orange, blue and even black. But if you want a red truck, you can still get one — in 25 shades from bright red to dark maroon.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

JAMES W. McDOLLE
In loving memory of our beloved one, James W. McDolle, who passed away one year ago today. The blow was hard, the shock severe, who little thought his death so near. He had no one to last farewell, he said goodbye to none. The heavenly gates had opened, a love voice said come, and with farewell unspoken he gently entered home. We don't disturb his rest, our beloved one, but in silence, sad and lonely are the hearts of those who loved him best. Sadly missed by wife, Joyce, and Mrs. Frank Katzenmeyer and family.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I divorced my husband in 1958 because he said he wanted to marry another woman. Well, he didn't marry her and she left town six months ago.

We have three children who are crazy about their Daddy. He comes to see them twice a week. Since he works nights (11-to-7 shift) he is free afternoons. He always comes to see the kids on weekdays and shows up about 1 o'clock when he knows they're in school. He visits with me and waits for them to come home.

My problem is this: I'm still in love with him and I melt when he turns on the charm. For the last three months I've been melting regularly. I know it's wrong but I don't know what to do about it. I'd love to remarry him but I'd die before I'd suggest it.

I can't tell him not to come over because he has visiting privileges. Please tell me what to do. — PUTTY IN HIS HANDS

Dear Putty: Ask your ex-husband to let you know in advance when he expects to drop in. A phone call will do. Invite a friend or neighbor to be on hand so you won't be alone with him. If he arrives unexpectedly tell him you must leave — and then do.

So long as he's able to enjoy a husband's privileges on a "drop in" basis he'll never marry you. Since you can't resist his charms, your best bet is to keep the place "crowded."

Status Symbol

Dear Ann: Your column today caused me to do a slow burn. It was about the gal who let her sister borrow her mink stole. You said, "Most husbands couldn't care less whether their wives lend their wearing apparel." I'm a husband who cares plenty. I'd blow my top if my wife let her sister or anyone else borrow her mink stole. And it's not even mink — it's dyed squirrel. When a guy buys his wife feathers and frills he has a sense of pride about it. It's sort of a status symbol. It's an insult when a wife attaches so little importance to her fur stole that she'd lend it out as if it were an egg-beater. I'm mad. — IN THE RED.

Dear Red: I was surprised at the number of men who share your possessive attitude toward their wives' glad rags. Apparently you fellows believe the expensively adorned wife is proof of your own material success.

I haven't heard a sound from the guys who are up to their Adam's apple in debt because of the little woman's fancy tastes.

Critical Aunt

Dear Ann: The problem is my maiden aunt who comes to our house about twice a week. Although I'm only 15 I have a few ideas of my own and I don't like it when she runs everyone down — especially my father.

My aunt keeps saying she could have married many men who were much better-looking and richer than Dad. She hints that Mom could have done a lot better if she had been fussier.

This aunt has a good paying job and seems to be satisfied with her life. Why does she criticize my folks so much? I get very irritated when she harps on this subject. How can I get her off of it? — PROUD DAUGHTER.

Dear Daughter: Your aunt is ashamed of her spinsterhood and tries to cover up by criticizing your mother and belittling your father. Tell her emphatically that you don't want to hear any more on the subject. Be just as blunt as she is.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

and Holy Communion Services at 5:30.

The final period for confessions will be Saturday from 2 to 3 p. m. Easter food will be blessed during Vigil Service and before the 10 a. m. Mass on Easter. Every family should bring the food to be eaten on Easter to be blessed, the church said.

The Vigil Service will be held at 11 p. m. on Holy Saturday. The Blessing of New Fire, Easter Candle and Easter Holy Water will be followed by Holy Mass beginning at midnight.

Women Vocalists Will Conduct Sale

Plans for a white elephant sale were discussed at a meeting of Sweet Adelines, Inc., Friday night at Tice's Restaurant. Some 35 attended.

Mrs. Madalyn Mack, chairman, said the sale will follow the next meeting Friday night. The unwrapped articles will be auctioned.

Mrs. Ruth Rinehart, president, conducted business and Mrs. June Morgan read the minutes. Miss Jo Ann Vannoy read the report of the nominating committee and announced the election is scheduled April 7. The group voted to invite the Magnolia Chapter of near Carrollton to the installation party May 5.

Several recommendations of the Executive Board were read and tabled. Mrs. Ann Claypool and Mrs. Clara Hall were named co-chairmen to plan the float which the group will enter in the Midland July 4th parade.

Dues are payable May 1 with a grace period until June 1, following which a fine will be added. Glenn Woods directed a practice session.

Driver Posts $75 Bail On 41 Parking Tickets

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Cornelius T. Canavan posted bail of $75 in City Court when arraigned on a charge of failing to pay for parking tickets — 41 of them. Police said Canavan had allowed the tickets to pile up over a period of time they described as "considerable."
